WATCHMAN RIDGE AS SEEN FROM UPPER CASTLEGUARD MEADOWS

Volume XVIII

In this, the eighteenth volume of Evergreen and Gold, it has been our endeavour to portray in a rustic manner, some of the colorful aspects in the lives and activities of the original inhabitants of this vast country. In the treatment of this aboriginal motif, the thought ever foremost in our minds was to present it in such a way as to be at once new and startlingly different. The sign-language employed to depict the sub-introductory is as nearly authentic as its limited scope would permit, and a literal translation of every symbol used appears in the latter portion of the book.

It is our cherished hope that during the years to come, this volume will serve as a never-ending source of happy memories to the students who have spent this year at the University of Alberta.

PEACE—a great light shining from the faces of the people; penetrating to power, politics and potatoes; the motive force of industry, art and science;
the regulator of the world.

Dedication

"PEACE is the healing and elevating influence of the world," said Woodrow Wilson. We of a later generation would go further and declare it to be essential for the preservation of our civilization. As the average man looks at the reigning confusion in the world, at the pyramiding race for armaments, at the dismal failure of man's best-laid plans to abolish war, he may well feel that universal peace is a myth. But youth ever looks upward and often inspires with idealism. Perhaps someone among us will be the leader of the great host of humanity in the progressive search for peace. We will fall in line and trust that, as we face the sun steadfastly, the shadows will fall behind and be no more. And soon we will reach our goal—

Dear Nurse of Arts, Peace, Plenties and Joyful Births.

PEACE—the guardian of art, science and industry; not static peace but progressive, strong;
with men to fight for peaceful right,
but none to justify the wrong.

Memoriam

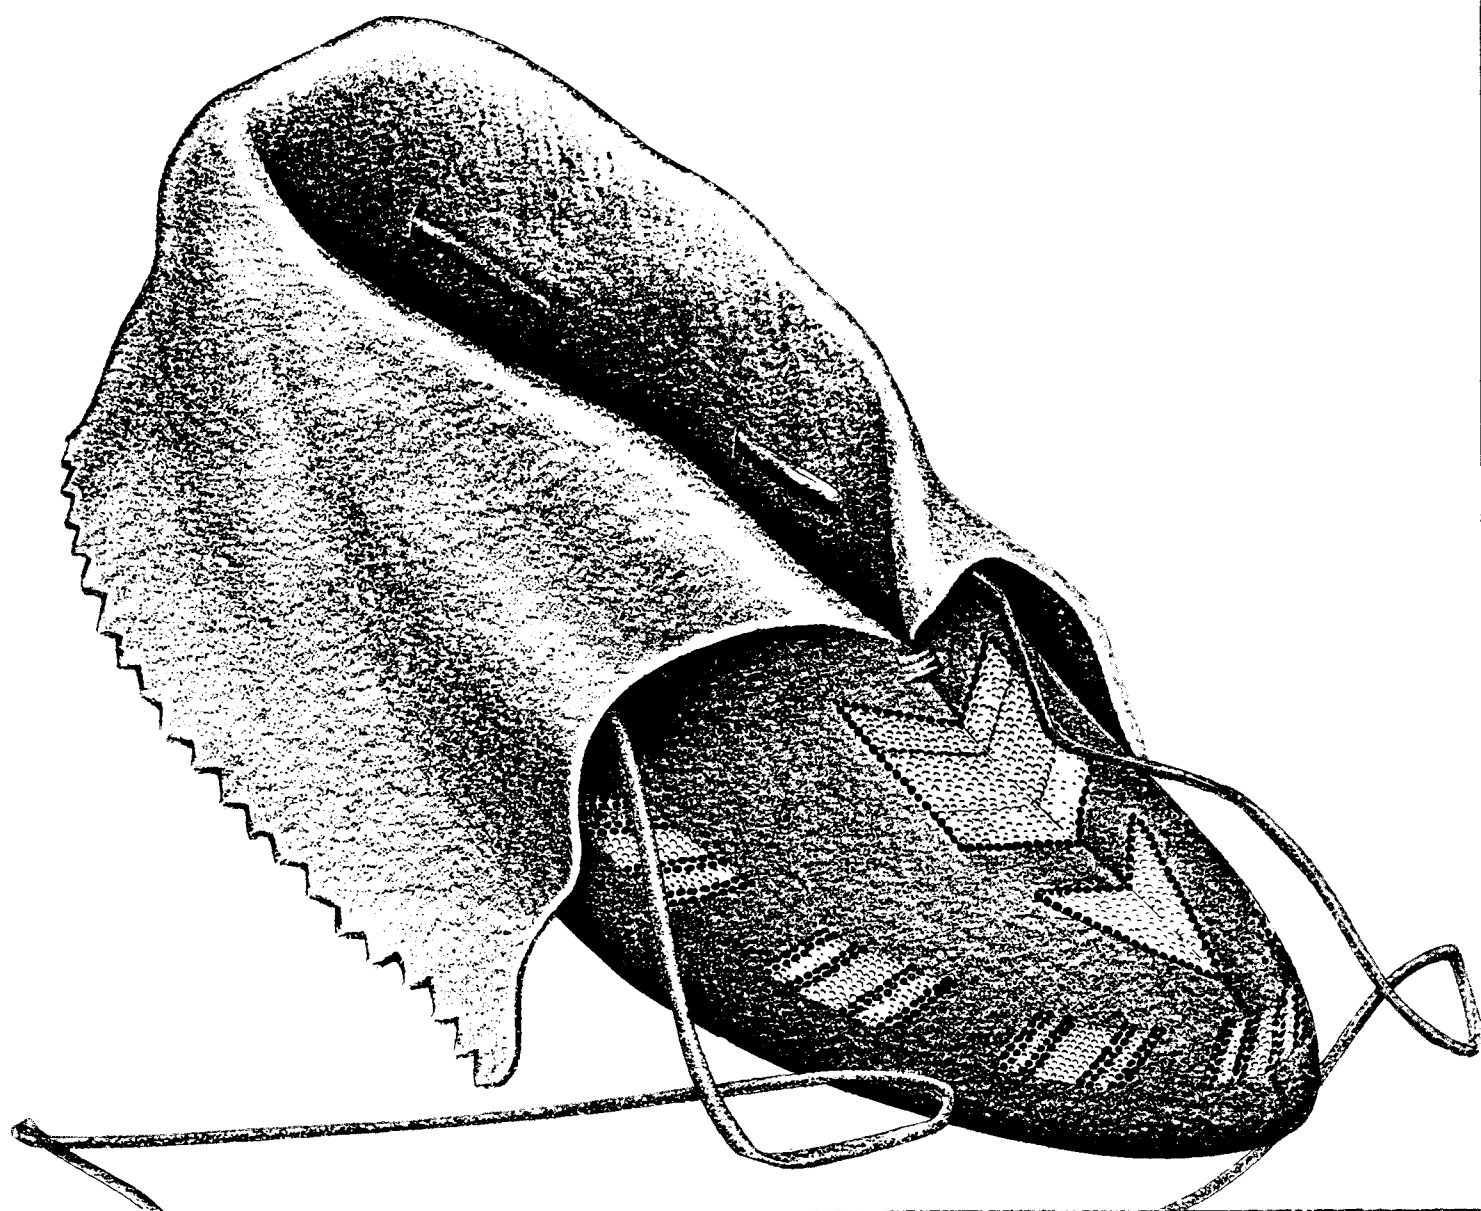

He was the Spirit of Youth,
He was the Essence of Gladness;
Clean of Body and Strong of Heart,
Strong and Sweet as the wind on the Mountains,
And we loved him well;
But the Great Hills loved him too,
And they took him unto themselves.

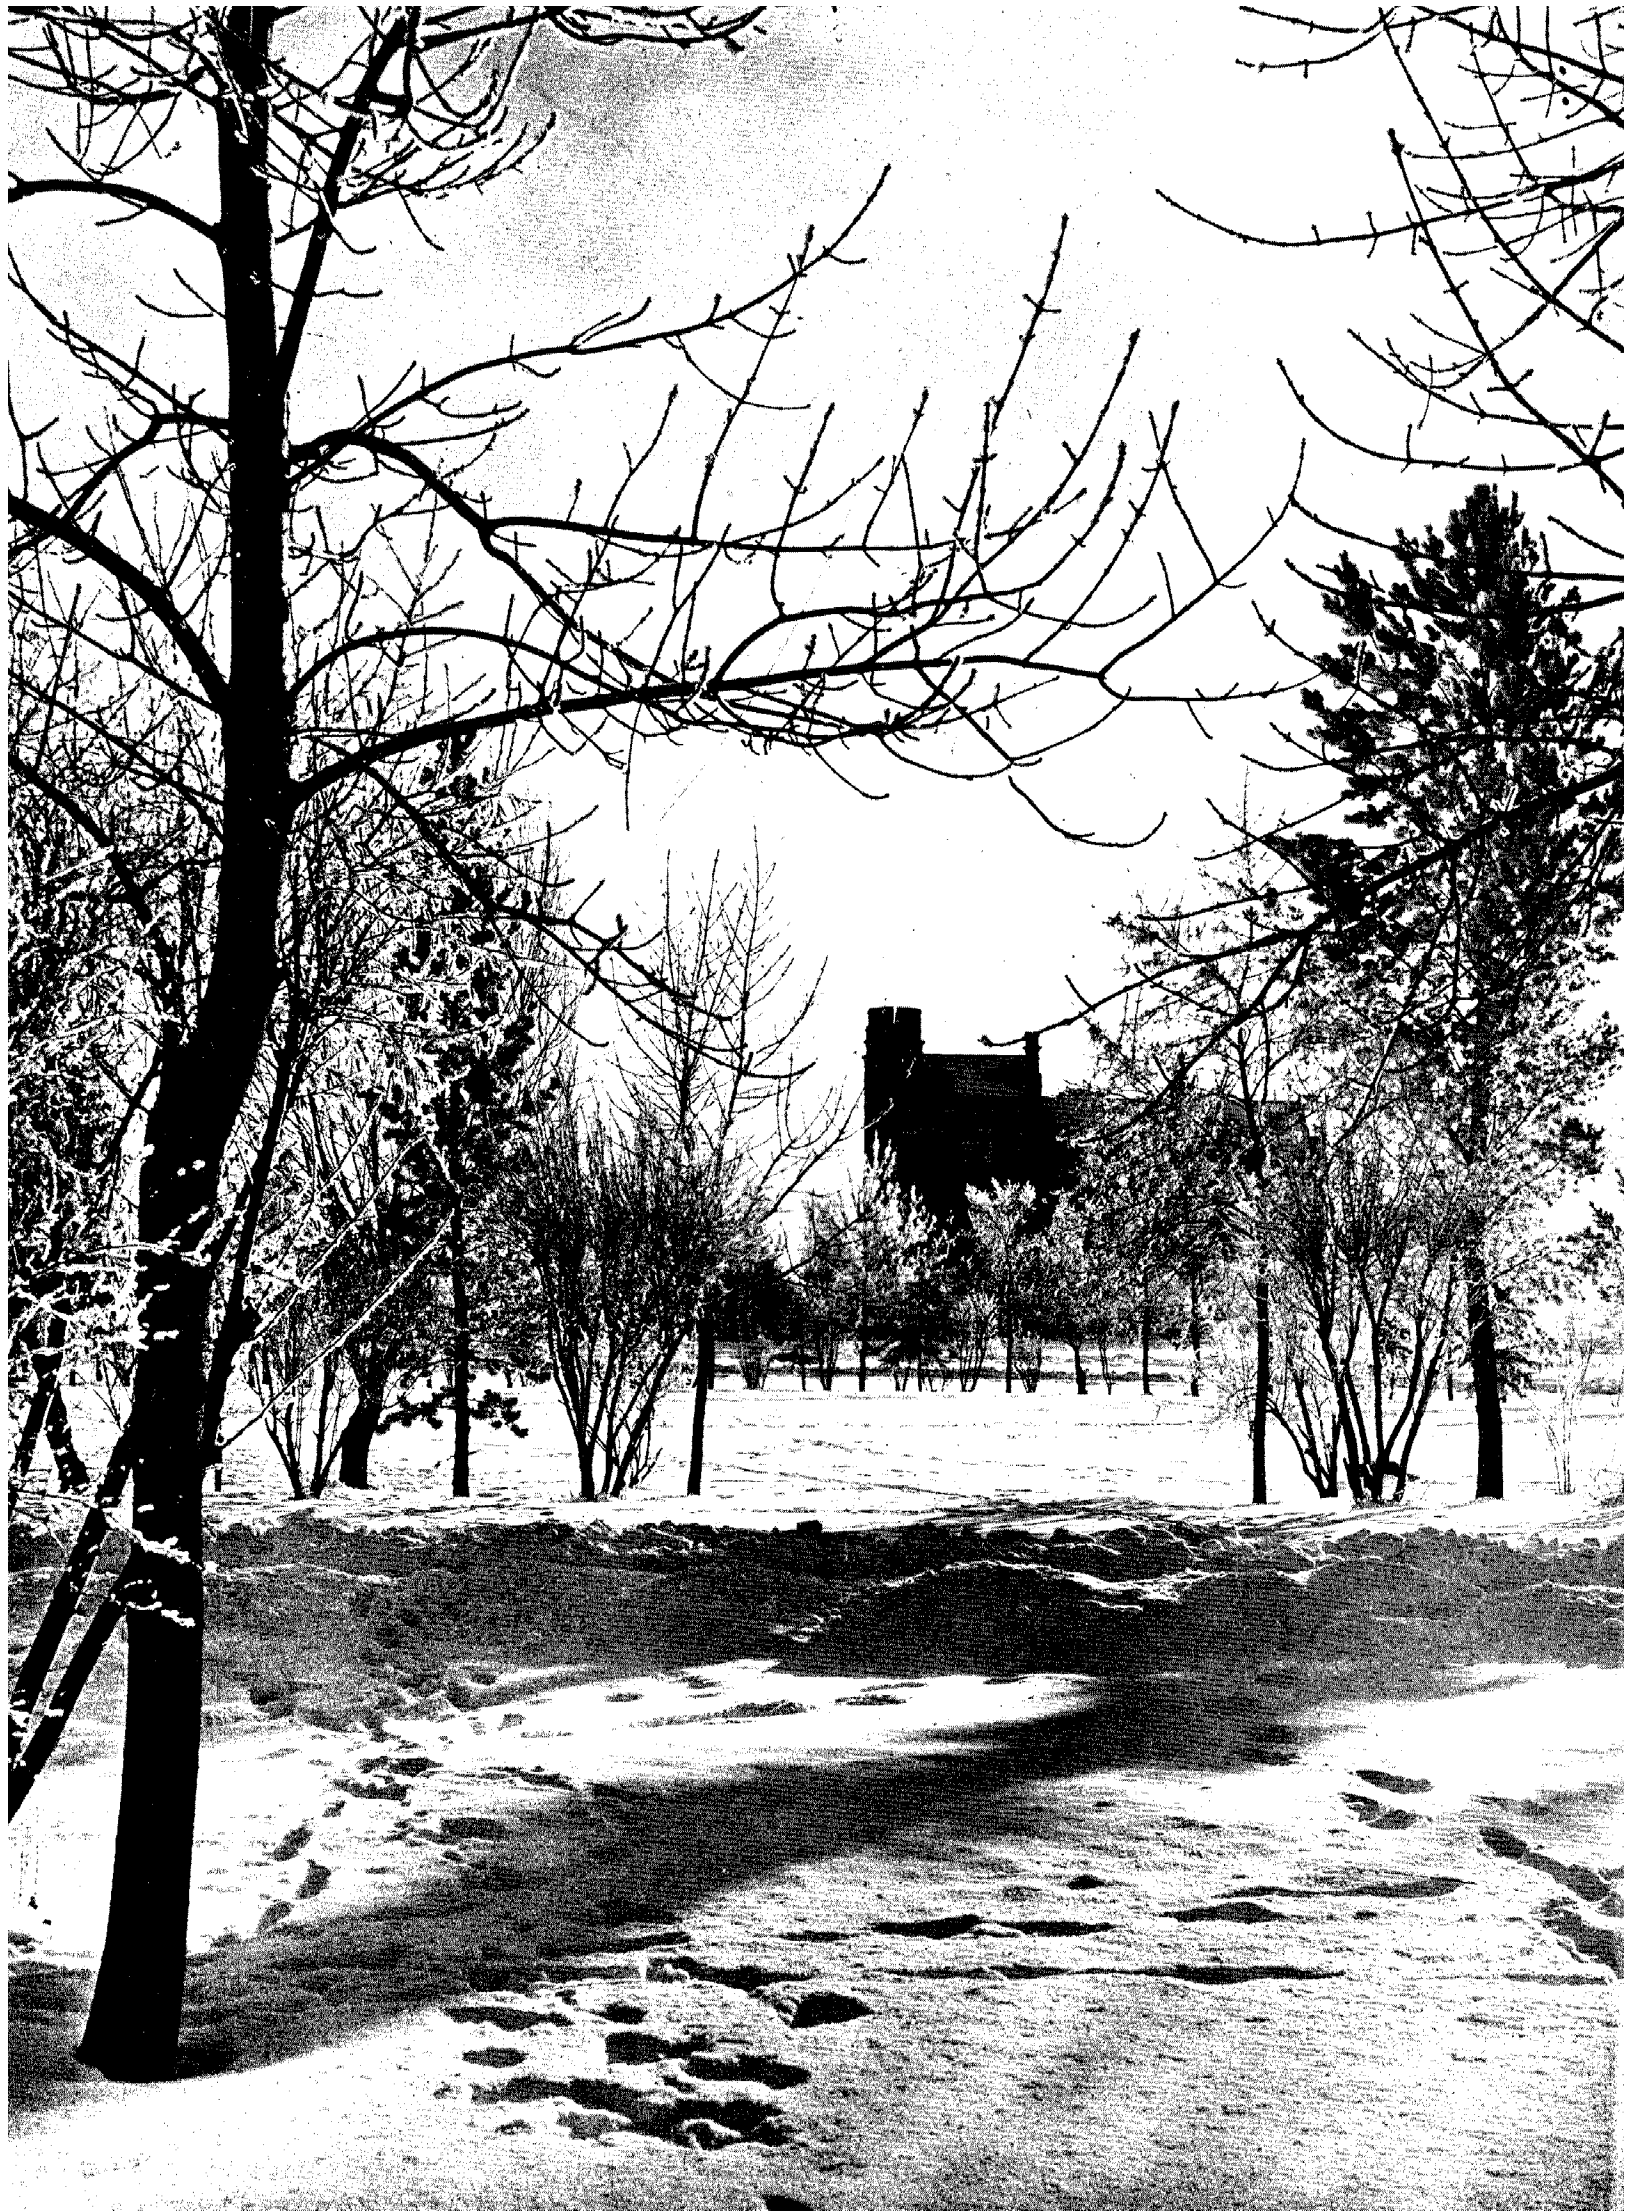

Shall we forget him? Never!
We loved him too well to forget him
And his joyous smile as he sped down the Trail
On his Ski-shod feet, like a soaring Swallow.
To know was to love him;
But the Great Hills loved him too,
His Youth and his Strength and his Sweetness,
And they gathered him unto themselves.

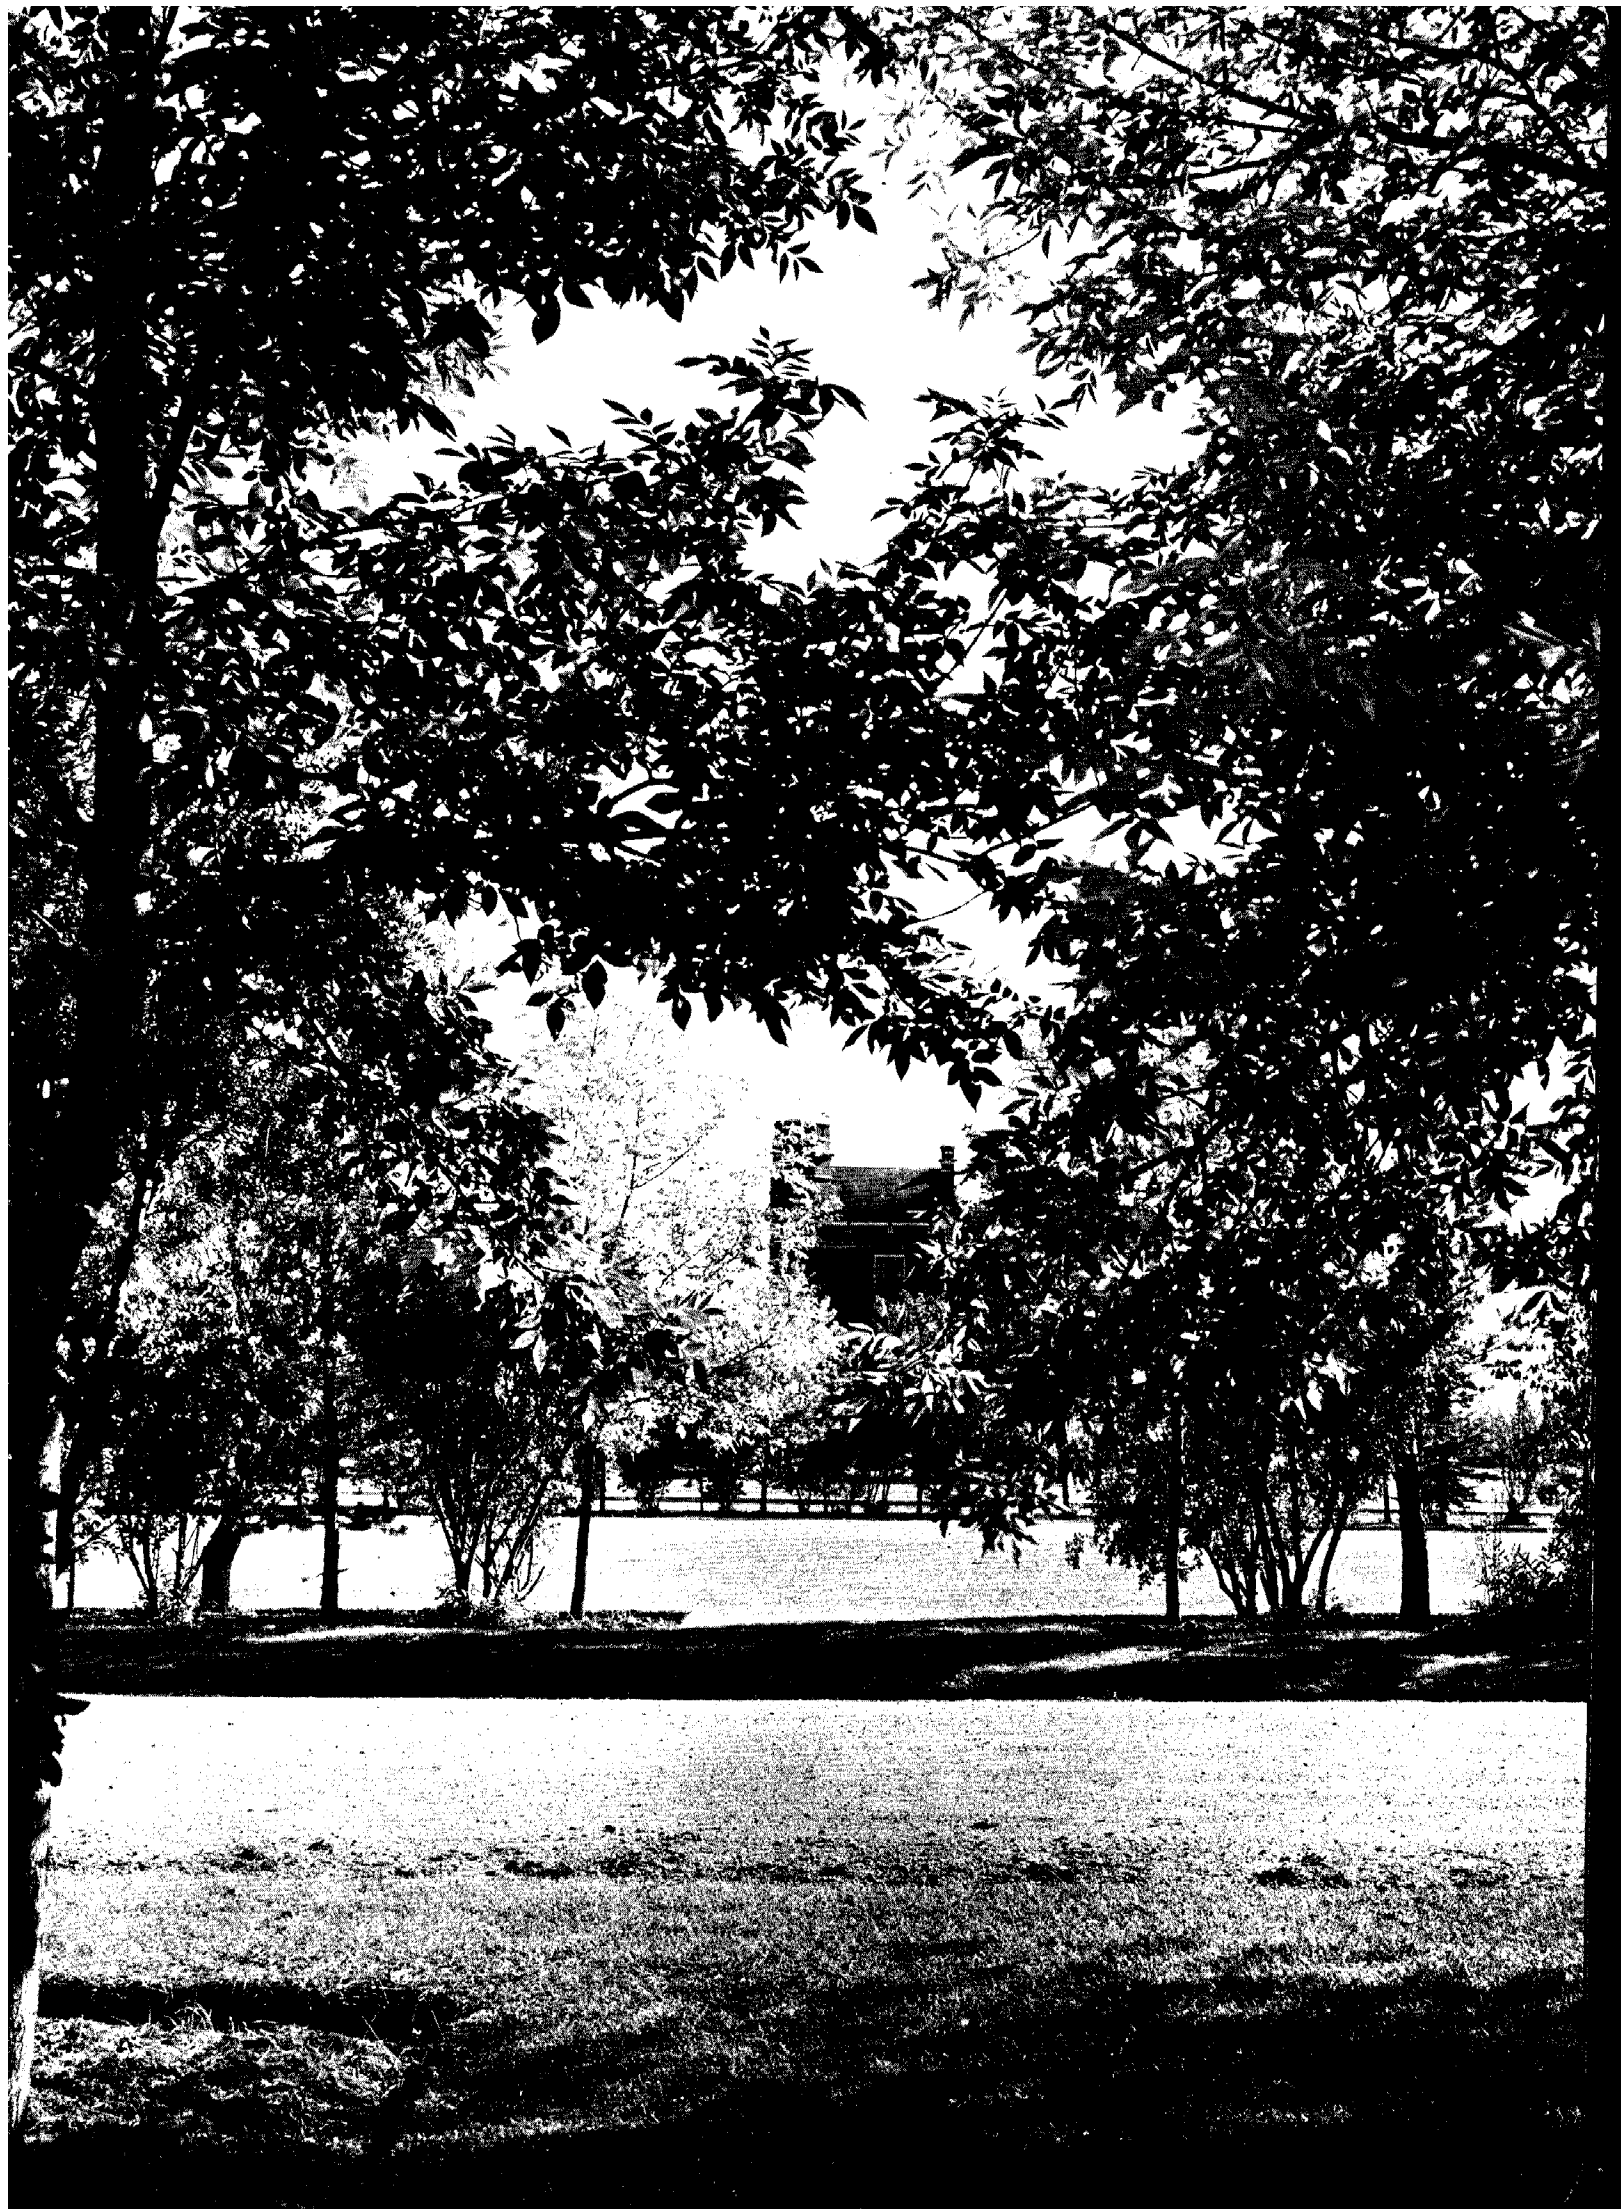

On the Hill where he loved to Ski
Does the Sun shine a little less brightly?
In the Hut where he joined in our songs
Is the glow of the firelight dimmer?
Or is it our Hearts that are sad
That the Mountains which loved him too,
Have taken him unto themselves?

DR. W. A. R. KERR, M.A., Ph.D., LL.D., Chev. Leg. d'H., O.I.P.
President of the University of Alberta

CHANCELLOR
THE HONORABLE A. C. RUTHERFORD
 B.A., B.C.L., LL.D.

CHAIRMAN OF BOARD OF GOVERNORS
THE HONORABLE H. E. HARVEY
 B.A., LL.B., LL.D., CHIEF JUSTICE

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It took probably ten days for news of the assassination of Julius Caesar to reach Octavian, his adopted heir, the future Emperor Augustus, in Illyria. Nineteen centuries later it still required two days for the report of the defeat of Napoleon at Waterloo to arrive at Downing Street. Indeed, until almost our own times news could travel only at the best speed of horse and sail.

Nations live, in space, close together, but in time—and time is the real measure of distance—they have hitherto lived far apart, locked up in their own frontiers, knowing little of one another, either by contact or hearsay; little chance was there for quarrelling or fighting, at least on any considerable scale; neighbors were too far away.

Now what has happened? The aeroplane and radio have literally annihilated distance. We can leave Montreal in the morning by plane and be in Vancouver in the evening. We can hear the voice of the Premier of Australia before that same voice has reached the back of the hall in which he is speaking.

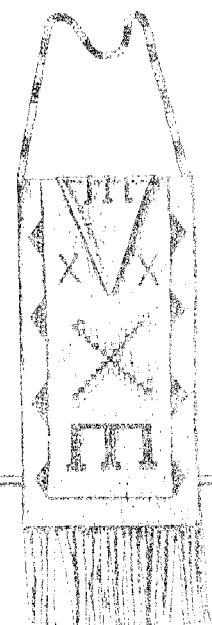

Suddenly the whole world has become our neighbor, rubbing shoulders with us, crowding us, crudely envious of our possessions. It feels strange to find yellow, brown and black people jostling us. We don't like their ways and we find it hard to accept them as intimate neighbors.

I wonder if this is partly why our world seems so confused and quarrelsome at present. Distance, which used to fence off nation from nation, has ceased to be. We meet the foreigner face to face; to our surprise he does not always like us and sometimes does not hesitate to say so.

Perhaps these present contentions will have to go on till we and our new near neighbors learn to live together, until we get the beams out of our own eyes, and then possibly we shall see more clearly to pluck the motes out of our brothers' eyes.

Where is this process of patience and tolerance to begin? Obviously, with the intellectually free, with the intelligentsia, amongst whom I hope and believe the Class of '38 is to be numbered.

FACULTY OF AGRICULTURE

DEAN E. A. HOWES

"The Faculty of Agriculture was established to offer training to graduates from the Provincial Schools of Agriculture. Later students were admitted from High School. B.Sc. and M.Sc. degrees are offered, B.Sc. requiring four years from Grade XI. Twenty per cent. become farmers; others take service in Technical Agriculture. There is strong evidence that our course is meeting the demands for Provincial and National Service."

FACULTY OF APPLIED SCIENCE

"The Faculty of Applied Science was erected in 1913 from the department of civil engineering. Subsequent additions include courses in architecture, mining, electrical and chemical engineering.

The curricula are designed to take full advantage of the courses in departments which serve other faculties and schools and to provide the special courses necessary to a knowledge of the fundamentals of engineering and architecture.

The objective of the faculty is to provide sound professional education as a basis for practical training after graduation and ultimate admission to the professions of engineering and architecture."

FACULTY OF ARTS AND SCIENCES

DEAN W. H. ALEXANDER

"In my short tenure of the office of Dean of the Faculty of Arts and Sciences I have sought to maintain the idea, which I believe to be fundamental, that this faculty is the core of the University, and that it is therefore incumbent on it to set the highest standards of achievement. Any modifications introduced in my term have been designed for that purpose. I would add that I have been most happy in all my relations with members of my faculty and my students, and that I owe a great debt to my secretary, Miss Hazel Sutherland, for her splendid collaboration."

FACULTY OF LAW

DEAN J. A. WEIR, K.C.

"The Faculty of Law has two main ends in view, to carry on university teaching in a subject which has long been important as a cultural study, and also to provide a strictly professional foundation for its graduates who are to engage in the practice of law. The combining of these two objects in university work proper, is relatively new in Common Law countries. One can safely say that the presence of students of law in the university life here has been distinctly beneficial to the students themselves. They recognize that the tree of knowledge has many branches and they are quite content to occupy a modest branch which may in time bear some fruit."

FACULTY OF MEDICINE

DEAN A. C. RANKIN

"In addition to the training of medical practitioners for the province, which is a public service, the Faculty of Medicine is constantly concerned with improvement in methods, and is desirous of proceeding in such manner as to exert favorable influence on the practice of medicine and on the profession within the province."

THE BURSAR

MR. A. WEST

"The Bursar, through his office, is responsible for the collection of all fees and other revenue due to the University; the disbursement of all monies; the ordering of all supplies and equipment; and in general the supervision of the administration of the finances of the University."

THE REGISTRAR

MR. A. E. OTTEWELL

"The function of the registrar's office is to administer university regulations respecting admission and classification of students. It also conducts examinations for the University and some nine affiliated professional societies. Its final duty is to record academic results and certify students as having met the requirements for the various degrees. A complete record of all students in attendance is kept and so far as information becomes available a record of the career of each graduate is maintained."

THE PROVOST

DR. J. M. MacEACHRAN

"The Provost of the University exercises general supervision over the conduct and welfare of the students - especially with regard to those in residence. He also exercises general supervision over all social functions and extra-curricular activities of the students."

ADVISOR TO WOMEN STUDENTS WARDEN OF PEMBINA HALL

MISS F. E. DODD

"The task of the Advisor to Women Students is well indicated by the title of the office. A main part of her work consists of being responsible for the life of the residence, where she lives with the students and guides the community activities so that each may have the maximum benefit and comfort from the intimate and friendly life shared by all. Another important duty is to hold herself available at all times to meet any woman student attending university who desires her counsel or help; it is one of the privileges of the office that so many students avail themselves of this opportunity."

ST. STEPHEN'S COLLEGE

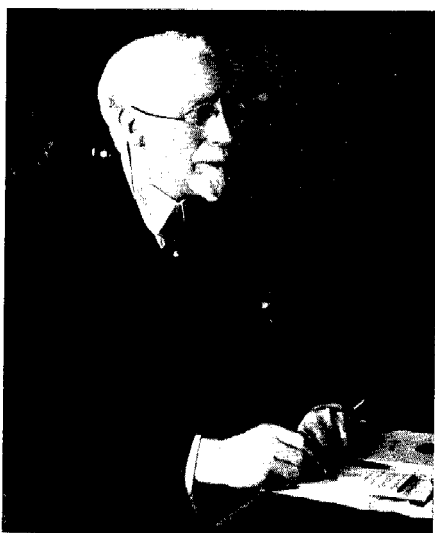

DR. A. S. TUTTLE

"St. Stephen's College is a unit closely related and affiliated with the University. Its student group in residence, representing all faculties and schools, presents a cross-section of University life. It has student activities of its own but encourages all its students to participate in the larger life of the University. On the academic side the College stands for the historical and scientific approach and seeks also to examine the ultimate grounds of belief in religious life, ethical practice and social patterns."

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE

BROTHER MEMORIAN

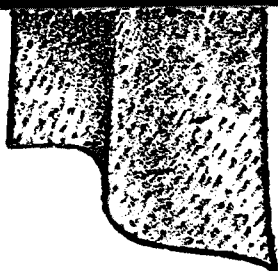

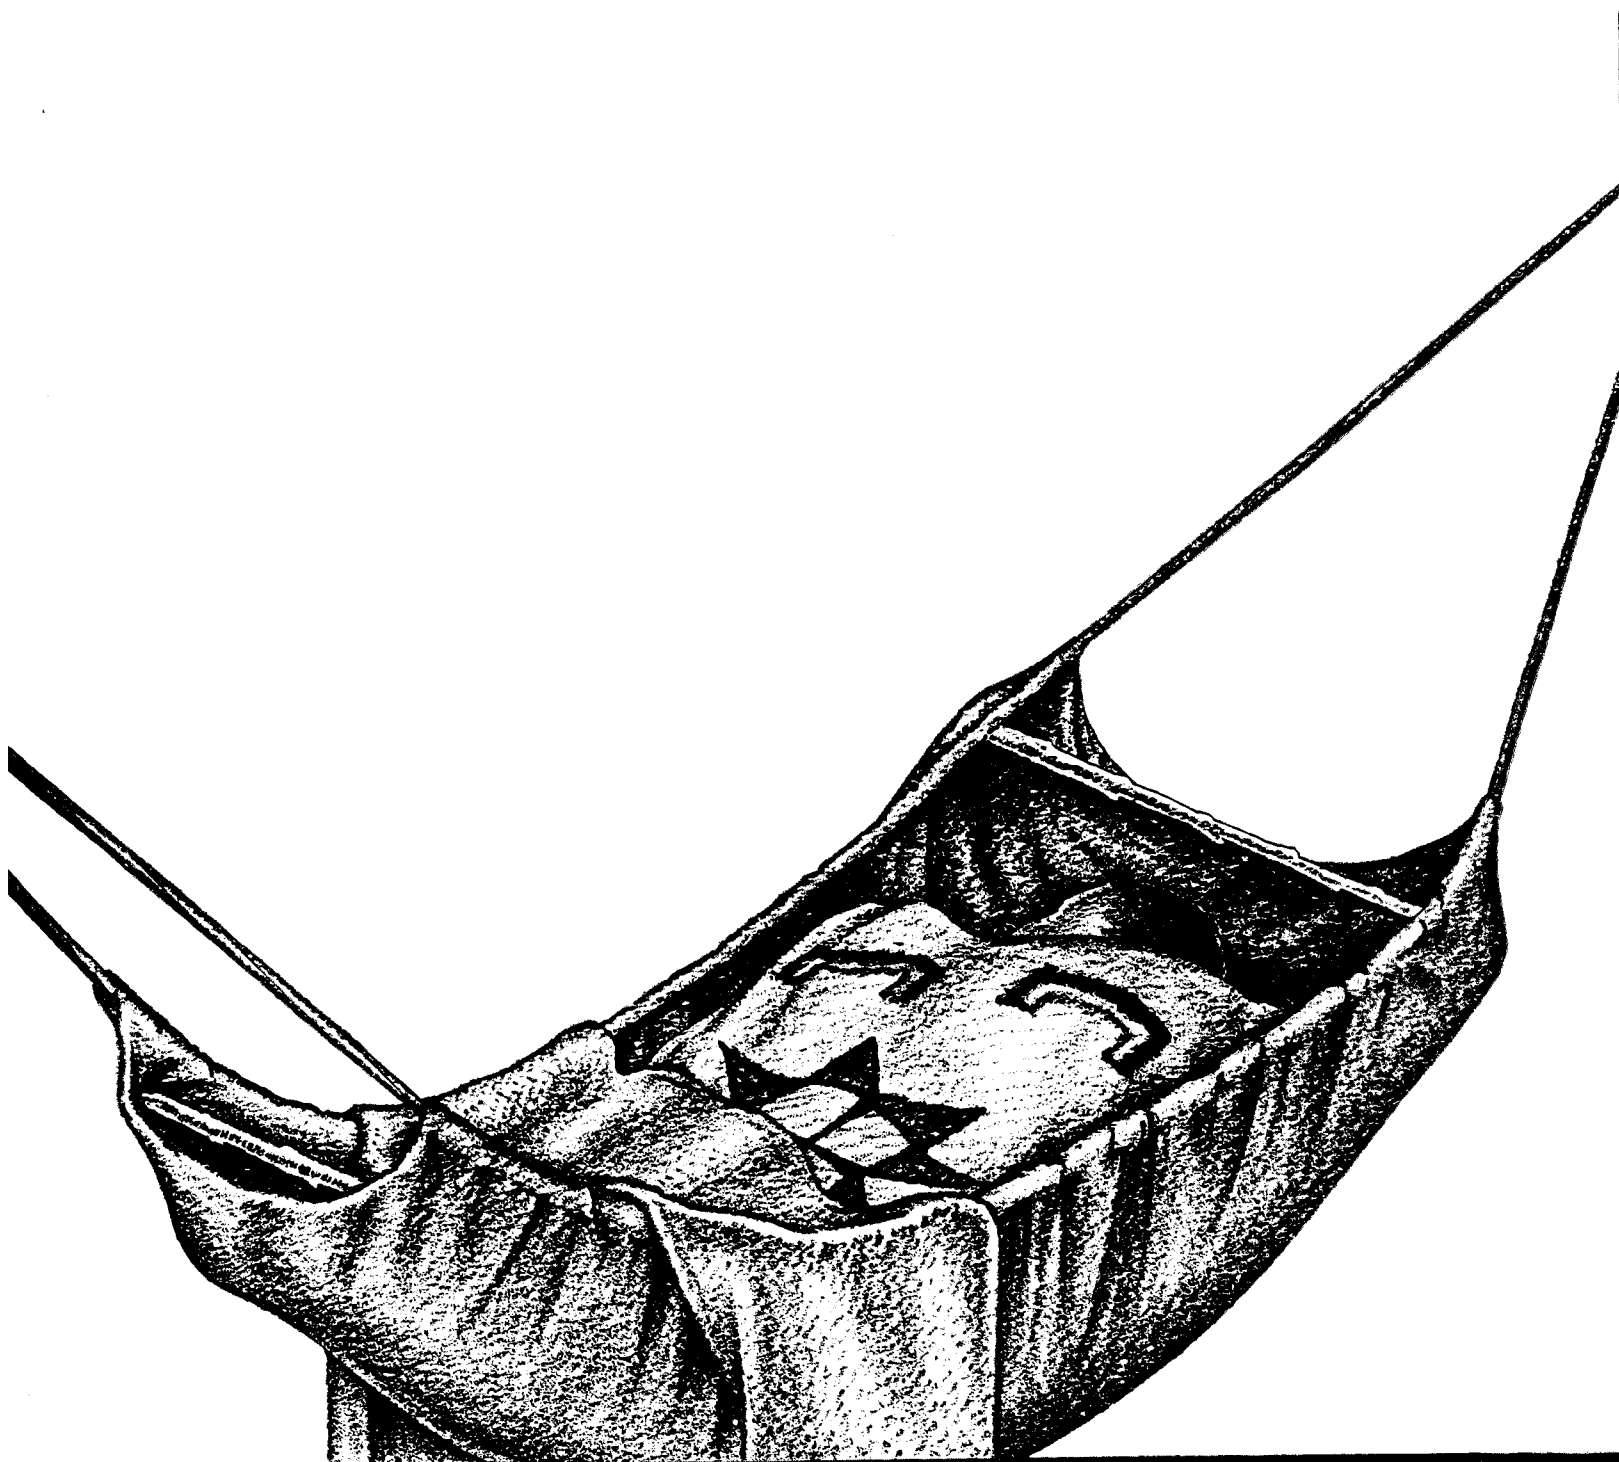

"It has been my constant endeavor, during my term of office, to make St. Joseph's all that the words 'affiliated college' imply. The word 'affiliation' connotes love and loyalty; loyalty suggests a willingness to serve and be helpful. These are the things that the staff and students of the University expect from St. Joseph's; these are the things that St. Joseph's has tried to give them. Its own interests are best served by contributing to the general welfare of the larger unit of which it is but a small part."

MOUNT ROYAL COLLEGE

REV. DR. G. W. KERBY

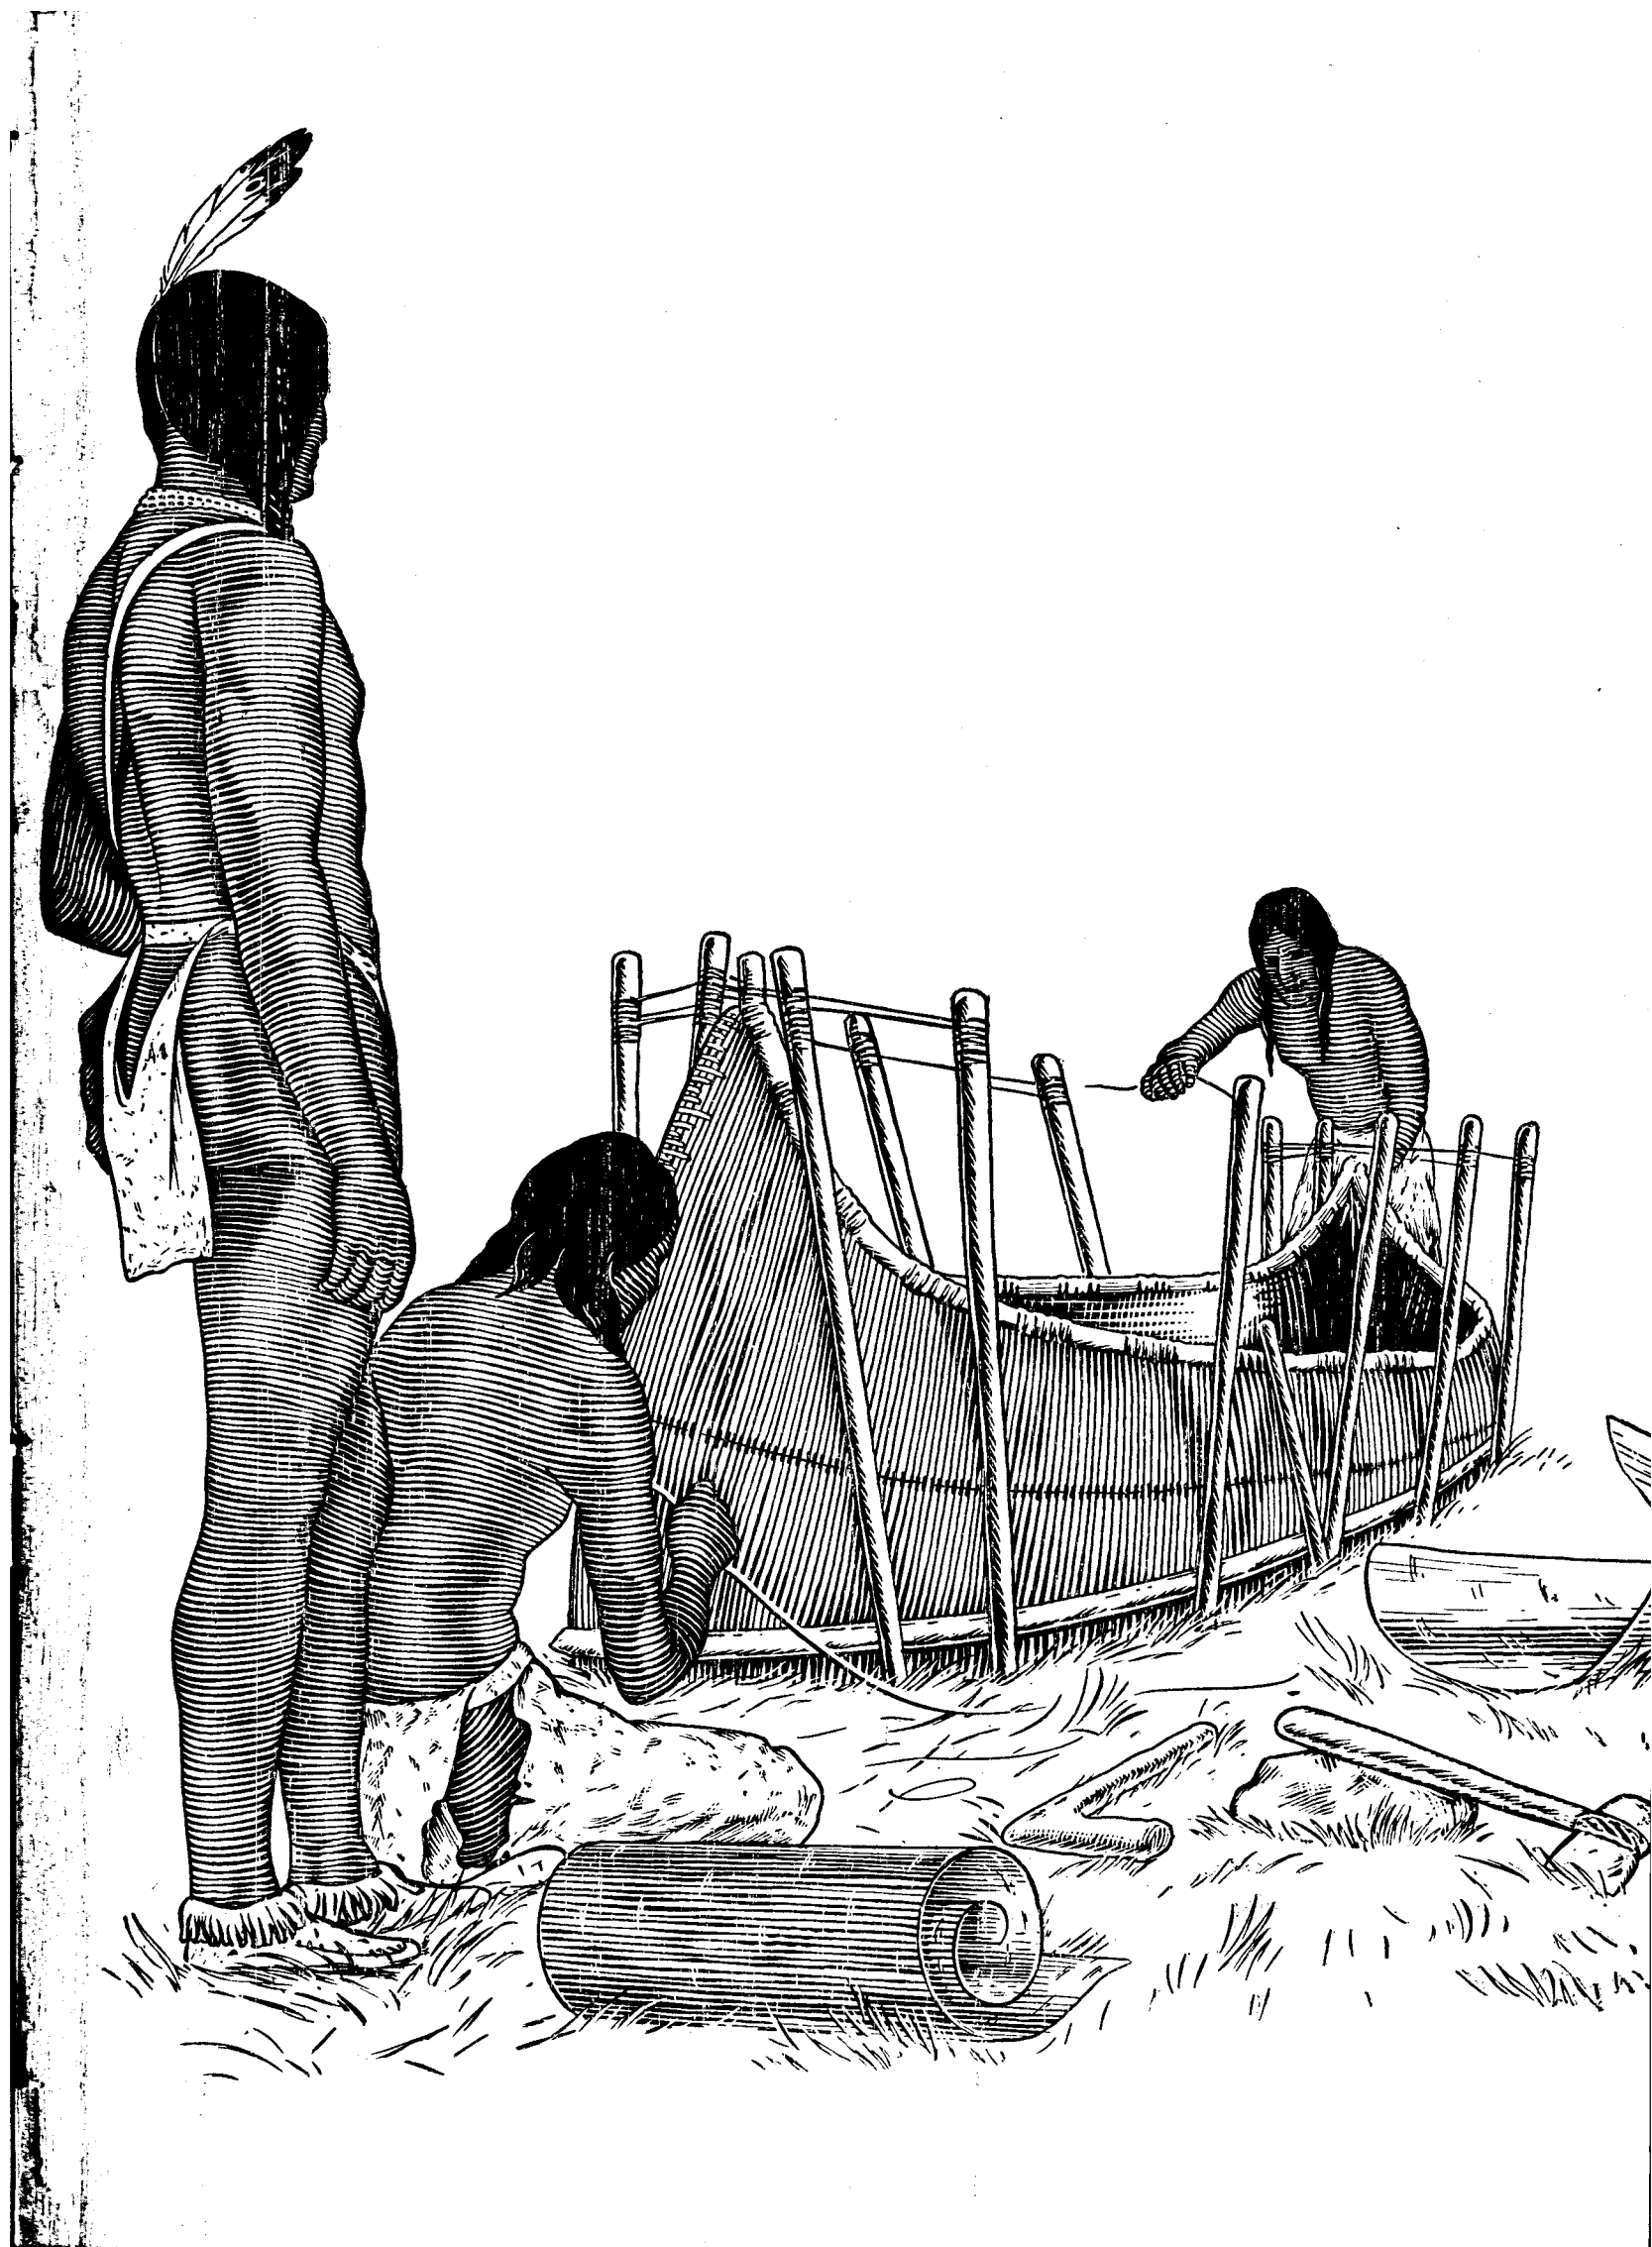

"The aim and ideal of Mount Royal College is to provide the foundation of an all-round education, which we take to mean the development of the individual, the quickening of his desire for knowledge, the strengthening of all his faculties; the giving of a wider outlook, a fuller sympathy with truth, beauty, and goodness; of making him familiar with the best thoughts of the best minds; impressing him with the reality so well stated by Browning in his Paracelsus: 'There is an inmost circle in us all where truth abides, and to know rather consists in opening out the way whence the imprisoned splendor may escape than in effecting entry for a light supposed to be without.'"

MARY MACBETH

History of Class '38

It seems but yesterday that the first members of Class '38, clutching number slips, meekly faced the registration desk in Convocation Hall. How strange it all seemed! The Sophomores, however, soon took steps to make us feel at home. Being themselves but slightly removed from the same situation they manifested a friendly attitude towards us newcomers, although their superiority was never completely submerged. They seemed to enjoy introducing us to the secrets of Varsity life—they showed us the rooms and labs, the door to the library (which we soon opened freely, and with a growing sense of ownership and consequent importance), the gym, the various buildings and other landmarks of the campus. They thrilled us with details of courses up in the fifties and sixties, and we confessed that we were taking one's and two's. They spoke of Tuck like old friends, and we very properly envied and admired.

But not for long. Class '38 soon turned from them and established its own identity. When Dr. Sonet consented to be our Honorary President, we felt sure of success in great things to come. We jumped into activities, perhaps not wisely but too well. Track and Senior Rugby canvassed our ranks, the Gateway investigated, the Debating Society lured us in, the Dramatic Society was deluged by freshmen, the Philharmonic rejoiced. There was hardly a branch of extra-curricular activity that did not count Class '38 on its roster of extra-active members. Do you remember "The Sleeping Clergyman"?

The fall of 1935 found us metamorphosed, almost unrecognizable. Was this society of super-confident, calmly-superior undergraduates that so efficiently put the Freshies wise, any relation to the huddling, bewildered bunch of novices of a short year before? What a change!

What we lacked in numbers we made up in enthusiasm. If we plunged the first year, what could describe our participation the second? We were on the road up, and we explored every field that lay by the path. In individual development the Sophomore year is probably the most important in University, for then we are beginning to recognize better our own abilities, resources and limitations. We have learned the "ropes," we know what the score is, and as yet we have not become pessimistic and blase about the whole business of getting an education. Look in the records of that year, and you will find abundant evidence that Class '38 were really reaching out.

The year 1936-37 found our ranks somewhat changed; students in three-year courses had suddenly become Seniors and their places had been taken by 1935 Freshmen in similar courses. This—our last year before assuming the responsibilities and cares of a graduating class—was a gay one. Our big dream was the best Prom ever—we don't like to brag, but the good ship "Romance" did make a jolly trip, and many people said—well, we don't like to brag.

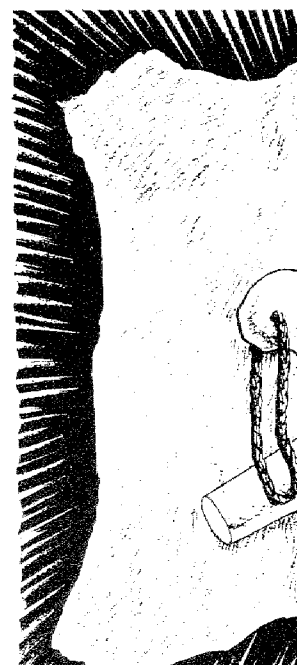

Nor did our other activities lag for an instant. Those interests that had attached us as Freshmen, in which we had really found our places as Sophomores, were carried mainly by us as Juniors. To list our activities in that year would be to underline those of the previous year.

As Seniors, we hope that we have acquired some of the dignity that we always believed Seniors possessed. It is a dignity engendered by a knowledge of some achievement, of a small start towards an education, of a humble attitude towards the possible, not a mere inflation over accomplishment to date. At the same time we feel a growing sense of anticipated loneliness and regret that our days here in the midst of this pulsing, dynamic life are numbered. The air is electric with rumors of finals—our final finals.

Looking back we are grateful for many things, not the least of which is the inspiration of Dr. Wallace's talks to Freshmen, a memory of "this, our University" that no class after us may have.

We feel that, as the doors close behind us after that eventful Friday, the thirteenth, something of the spirit of Class '38 will stay to haunt these halls, a permanent if intangible bit of each of us. With us we take much more—the hope that we have learned what most we want in life and, above all, that we have gained the courage "to strive, to seek, to find, and not to yield."

MARY MACBETH.

Valedictory

WE have come this day to bid farewell to our University. In each of us different thoughts and emotions arise as we reach the graduation milestone. For many of us University life is now ended; for others the close of this college year is but another lap finished in an ambitious educational career. For us all this is a moment when retrospection is not amiss.

We are grateful that for the past three years or more the best that is known to scholars has been readily available to us in an intellectual hothouse where our diverse opinions and varying ambitions have received both nurture and pruning. Our preconceived notions, biases and prejudices have undergone revision. Our personalities have been rounded and smoothed in contact with our learned professors and with our fellow students.

We now depart, not only (we hope) with open, disciplined minds, but also with human insight and sympathies, deepened and enriched through the comradeship of the Class of 1938.

The evolutionary process was slow and not always pleasant. The fallacies and prejudices in our freshman's baggage were precious to us. A preliminary sprinkling of learning soon engendered sophomore arrogance, a cocksureness which our junior year polished into sophistication. We had an impressive air, although we could not be certain that we knew everything. But with our senior year, especially as the months grew into weeks and the weeks grew into days, our sophistication became less and our humility more. We now see, above all else, the immense body of truths yet to be assimilated. We now realize as never before the inadequacy of our equipment, and the necessity of extending the bounds of our knowledge until we die.

And the more quickly the days sped by, the more reluctant we were to see them go. It has been a happy life here. In all that we did there was a little of that indefinable something called glamor. All this learning and the adjusting of adolescent character has been pervaded with the priceless enthusiasm of youth; laughter and merriment, dancing, songs and pranks have accompanied our mutual striving towards the same ends. Reckless enjoyment has fostered a flow of sympathy as we followed our various academic pursuits.

Athletics, dramatics, debating, student politics, and a score of other activities have claimed our attention. We played at being musical comedy stars, editorial writers and football heroes, hoping always that in so doing we were contributing something to the University's history and traditions. The measure of success which we have achieved in these fields has been the fruit of our studies. Our accomplishments when we were free to follow our own desires have been stimulated by the classroom. They are indicative of healthy intellectual advancement.

We shall treasure pleasant memories of hours spent in idleness—hours dissipated in jangling over human verities, and other verities not so eternal. But it would not be fair to say that all knowledge went unheeded; that all wisdom was ignored. The pageantry of learning was unfolded before our eyes, and sometimes we saw, not "as through a glass, darkly," but with the clear light of dawn. Even our idle hours were not fruitless. We may have chattered of much that was trivial, but we also spoke of great things. We tried to think for ourselves, and sometimes we succeeded.

Although our recent life and thought has centred in a few acres of ground on a wind-swept riverbank, we are not, I hope, insensitive to the needs of the outer world. Society today demands a ready assumption of individual moral responsibility for individual acts, the love of all beauty—that is, a higher and wider conception of the dignity of human life, and lastly, a reasoned and confident attitude towards life.

If when a man graduates from university he has learned the work he is fitted for, if he has gained some ideal of beauty, if he has delved deeply enough into himself to have even a vague knowledge of his own soul, if he has learned enough of the past to understand to some small degree the present, and if he has gathered unto himself enough ideas of life to have a workable philosophy of living, he has begun at least to learn to live. He can count his years in university well spent. He has the rudiments of an education.

DUNCAN C. CAMPBELL.

DUNCAN C. CAMPBELL

SENIOR

WE ARE CLASS '38.

The road that sometimes seemed so long is today behind us. We are now at the turning and must venture down a new avenue of experience.

Graduation is somehow like the launching of a great ship. With elaborate ceremony we break the ties that four, five, six or more years have welded; the supporting props are cast aside; we are on our own as we leave the sheltered harbor of our University life for the uncertain fate of storm and calm and dangerous rocks. But we go with confidence inspired by association with those more learned who have guided us thus far, and the uncharted seas do not threaten but entice. The hope that our Alma Mater may one day be proud of us is the port towards which we now set sail.

CLASS

Meanwhile we can look at this year as the acme of activity in our University careers, and we find the Class of '38 reaching a new "high" on the entire campus. It is to be expected that the Seniors will provide most of the leadership in any year; our record shows that we have abundantly fulfilled that expectation. There is hardly a single campus organization or activity that has not numbered some members of the Class of '38 among its leaders. A catalogue of their names would be too long, but in dramatics, debating, student government, publications, and sport they stand out sharply as pillars of strength. Nor were we short on the social end—the Senior Formal was an outstanding success.

Soon we leave. There is a feeling of regret mingled with anticipation, and the memory of things accomplished with the hope of things yet to be. Like Janus we look backward and forward, determined not to shut our eyes either way.

JUNIOR CLASS

ANOTHER milestone in the college life of Class '39 looms before us as the session 1937-1938 draws far too rapidly to its conclusion.

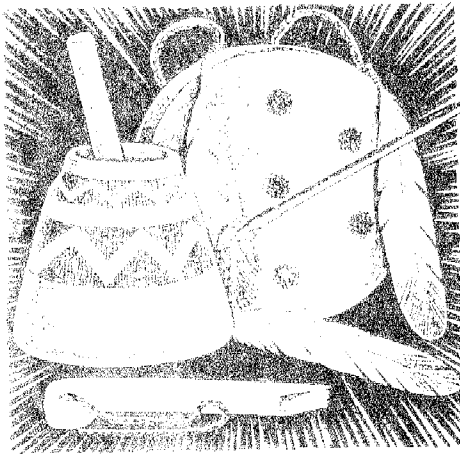

We of Class '39 have been looked on as the first well-knit class since the days of Initiation and thus we point with pride to our achievements. Every phase of extra-curricular activity has been invaded by our members, and our efforts have been crowned with well-merited success.

Forgetting the commonplace, we sought uplift in the arbor of the gods, where the Pipes of Pan glossed over the worry and care of the perennial hurdles which faced us, namely, the Christmas Examinations. Thus the "Prom of Proms" passed into history as one of the highlights of our academic careers.

To the Thespians in our group fell the honor of presenting one of the most outstanding plays ever presented in the Inter-Year Play Competition. Individually and collectively we feel that a bouquet is due to the cast and that their's was a well earned victory. As we continue on our Happy Journey we will always look back on their effort as a true symbol of the spirit of Class '39.

As we note with regret the passing of our Junior year, so with a feeling of anticipation we look to our Senior and final term, trusting that as before we shall always have a common goal of true fellowship.

To those who have fallen by the wayside we offer our sincere regrets and to the unscathed we say, "May continued good fortune be yours for the future and may the Class of '39 always stand out as a model and guide to those who follow."

SOPHOMORE CLASS

FOR most students the Sophomore year represents the half-way mark in University life, and the half-way mark is always a good place to stop a moment and take stock of what has been done and what it is hoped will be done. Sophomore Class this year should not be afraid of the results. We have branched out in the second year after learning the ropes in the first, and we have made a real contribution to University life in the realms of sport, dramatics, debating, etc. The Class as a whole has been one of the most energetic and enthusiastic in years, and has upheld faithfully its many functions and traditions.

Starting the year with great energy we swept on throughout the term with unflagging zeal and were active in numerous diversified activities.

Let us hope that we have made an impression upon the current year and that this impression will deepen and grow as the tide of life rolls onward.

FRESHMAN CLASS

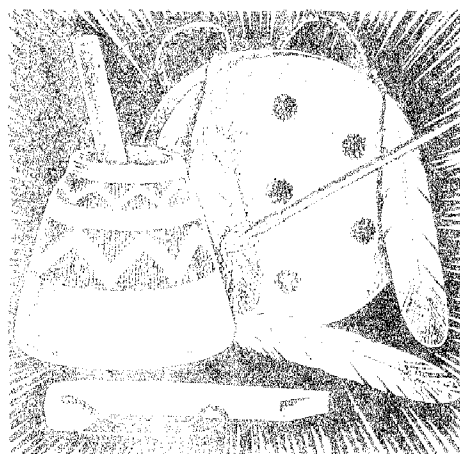

THE Freshman Class of '41 entered into an enthusiastic participation in all campus activities—literary, scholastic and athletic—and contributed its share to the life of our Alma Mater.

Our class was very fortunate in having as its Honorary President, Dr. M. K. McPhail, in whom we found an ever-willing helper and through whose co-operation many stumbling blocks were removed.

In the realm of dramatics the entry of this year's class, "The Flattering Word," was very well received and high hopes are held for the participants as regards future plays. True sportsmanship was very evident in all athletic endeavors such as rugby, hockey, track, basketball and in all minor sports—all of which received the loyal support of the energetic freshmen. The Frosh sleighride introduced the new year in the approved hilarious manner and our reception concluded the session in true Freshman style.

Our Freshman year is over—one more milestone is passed—may the succeeding years be as happy and as successful.

Bon Voyage.

THE STUDENTS'

THE 1937-38 Students' Council can look back on a term of office characterized by criticism from within and without, a sign, we presume, of some life. Commendable inaugurations and some not so commendable suggestions have been dealt with thoughtfully during the term, and at all times student affairs have been given the attention they rightfully merit.

The Students' Union Building Fund has, as in former years, been kept in mind. A committee was set up to investigate the feasibility of a trust fund for this purpose, as was recommended by the Chairman of the Students' Union Alumni Building Committee in the Spring of 1937. Gradually but surely our plans are progressing, and that is what is important.

COUNCIL

Definite arrangements were made and plans carried out, as far as facilities and conventions would permit, to introduce new students to University life without the use of "brutal" tactics. This Freshman Week seems to be on its way to success as a substitute for the older forms of initiation.

Favored by a membership representative of many branches of University life, the council disposed of its duties in a manner at once business-like and, considering the many opinions represented, generally satisfactory.

The Constitutional Enforcement Committee

WITH the passing of the "Enforcement Act" in the spring of 1934, the Constitutional Enforcement Committee became established on the campus as a part of the student government set-up.

The chairman and two members who make up this body are appointed by the Students' Council at its first meeting in the fall and hold office for one year. The members are senior students who, except at the discretion of the Council, hold no other office under the Students' Union.

As its name implies, the function of the Committee is that of enforcing the Constitution and further, of adjudicating in matters pertaining to the welfare and good government of the Students' Union.

While the functions of the Committee are mainly judicial in nature, it is rather significant that much of its work has to do with a careful examination of existing statutes and recommending to Council changes which might make the Constitution more adequate to meet new situations.

The Committee is not completely analogous to a court of law. In as much as it strives to make those decisions which will promote "the welfare and good government of the Students' Union" its judgments may oftener be in the form of censorship rather than the rigid enforcement of the law to the letter. Students appearing before the committee, if they conceive themselves to be unjustly dealt with, have the right to appeal the decision and secure a new hearing before the Committee on Student Affairs.

Acting in the capacity of a "clearing house" for difficulties arising between Council and organizations under the Students' Union as well as handing down decisions in cases where individual students are concerned, the Committee performs the functions of an advisory as well as a judicial body. In so far as it is able to remove friction and promote harmony in student affairs it is fulfilling a worthwhile office on the campus.

St. Joseph's House Committee

ST. JOSEPH'S COLLEGE has recently entered upon the second decade of its existence. It is young, even in comparison with the young university to which it is privileged to be affiliated. Mindful of its youth, it has been mainly concerned with learning those things that are expected of it both from within the university and from that outer field which it serves.

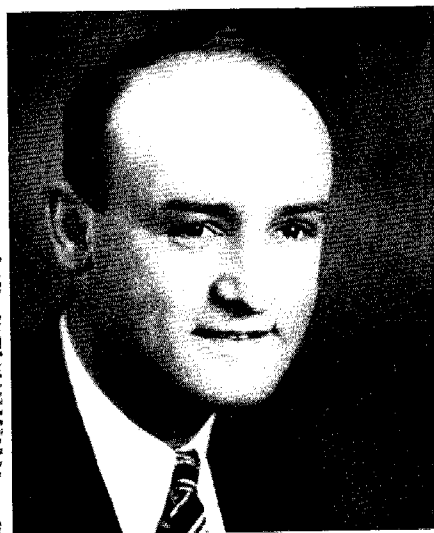

Within the College itself constant efforts have been made to carry out those things for which it was specifically founded. In so doing, those in charge are careful to bear in mind the interests of others not immediately associated with St. Joseph's and to whom they might also be helpful. The House Committee is an integral part of St. Joseph's in achieving this end through its regulation of residence activities.

The Wauneita Society

THE Wauneita Society this year continued its twenty-six-year-old tradition of friendliness and loyalty among women students. For the introduction of freshettes there was a tea and the campfire initiation ceremony. Early in the fall the Reception to Men Students started the social functions of the year in a highly successful way. The next function of the Society was the annual Banquet where old and new Wauneitas dined together and felt more closely still that the Society is a very valuable organization for the women of the University.

The tribe was very fortunate in having Mrs. MacEachran for its honorary president. Her kindness and hospitality were greatly appreciated, not only by the executive but by all the members of the Society.

The Covered Rink

THE rink opened its doors last fall a full two weeks earlier than in the previous year, thanks to the kindly co-operation of Old Man Weather. The continued favor of the old gentleman throughout most of the season was a large factor in the unprecedented popularity of the rink.

Opening with a carnival, which was extremely well attended, the rink provided a smooth sheet of ice for public skating on three days a week, with the newly-organized University Band in attendance much of the time. The excellent brand of hockey offered by the Senior team drew exceptionally good houses. Inter-faculty hockey leagues occupied a goodly share of the time allotted to hockey, and the ladies' team as well as a table league had its hours. A grand carnival in February brought community carnivals here and, as an added attraction, the provincial speed-skating trials.

The rink investment has proven a "democratic" one, since year by year since its beginning, more students are enjoying its benefits. As a campus institution the rink has been well able to justify its existence.

St. Stephen's College

1937-38 has been another successful year for the eighty students who have made St. Stephen's College their campus home. Although they represent every faculty, the men of the College have close ties of fellowship which bind them as a unit, while the scope and variety of their interests indicate their close affiliation with the University.

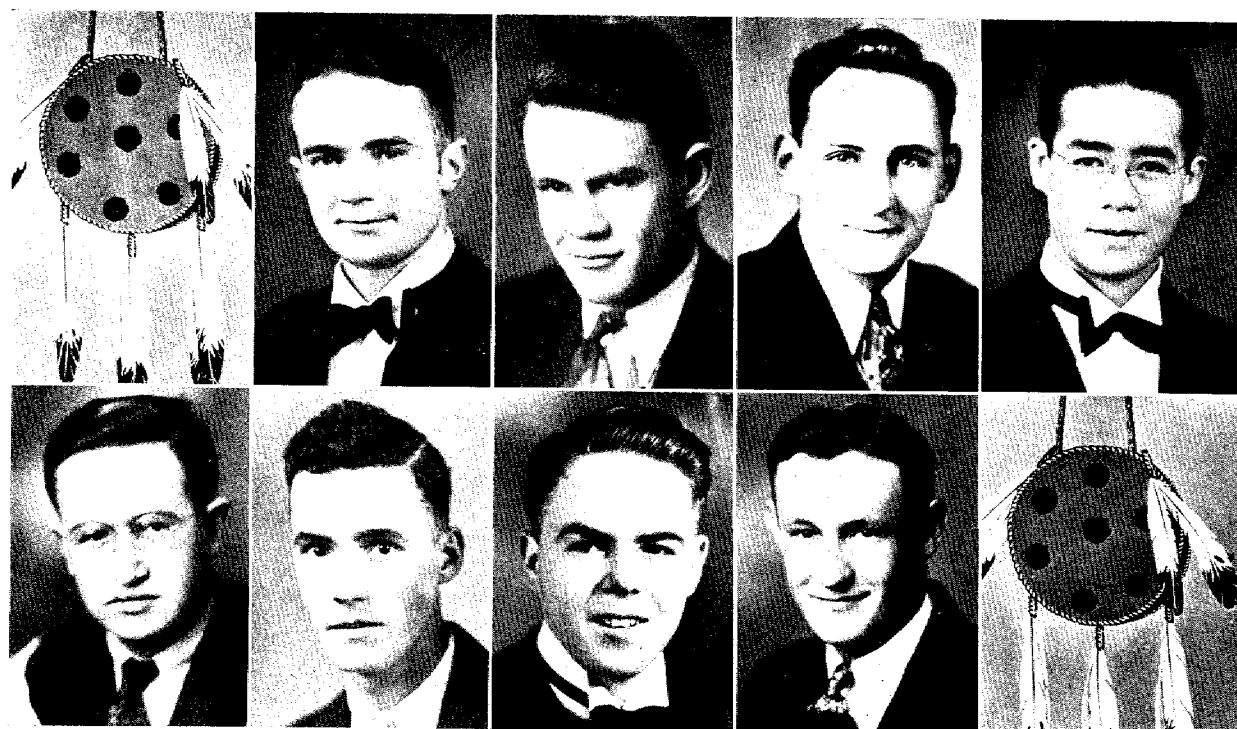

The Council of St. Stephen's College provides a well rounded program of student activities which includes athletic and social events such as hikes, skating parties and informal evenings, and vesper services conducted each evening in the Chapel. In addition Chapel services are held every morning at 8.15. To these services all University students are heartily welcomed.

The House Committee

THROUGHOUT the twelve floors in six wings of three buildings the House Committee watches over extra-curricular activities in residence. Some students may accuse the members of always having a suspicious eye, but many there are who testify to their general consideration for individuals while at the same time they attempt to maintain a standard of conduct worthy of students of the University. Good clean fun mixed with sportsmanship has made the duties of this year's committee comparatively few and pleasant.

Social functions featured some variety this year, house dances being held in Convocation Hall as well as in the gym. Several novelty dances met with great approval (apparently not extended to the decorations which soon disappeared); while the very enjoyable Christmas banquet was distinctive in the unveiling of the new mascot ATHA-BOYAPEM.

To the splendid co-operation and kindly assistance of Miss Dodd, Dr. MacEachran and Mr. Jones, the House Committee feels deeply grateful.

The Board of Publications

WITH the passing of its second milestone of existence as a department under the Students' Union organization, the Board of Publications has successfully graduated from the plastic, experimental stage into one of definite purpose and effectiveness.

The paramount purpose of the Board is to act in an advisory capacity on all matters pertaining to publications. With its membership consisting, as it does, of students who are at present or who have been in the past actively associated with publications on the campus, it is better qualified as a body to deal with problems arising out of this particular phase of extra-curricular activity than Council itself. At the same time the latter body is relieved of supervisory responsibility in that direction, which would otherwise be added to its already heavy load.

Direct interference on the part of the Board has been avoided except where emergency absolutely necessitated such action, it being felt that a policy of supervisory control that took the form of helpful guidance best served the purposes for which the Board was formed. Recommendations on questions discussed by the Board are forwarded to Council in which body is vested the ultimate consideration of all matters of student activity.

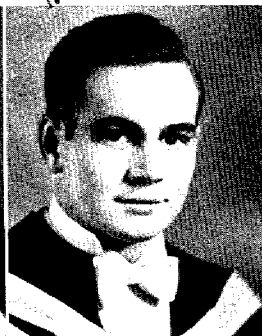

The Board of Publications has proved itself to be a body pursuing a needed and well-directed purpose and it is felt that with careful direction it will assume a role of ever-increasing usefulness as the sphere of publications on our campus increases.

Women's Disciplinary Committee

THE purpose of the Women's Disciplinary Committee is to maintain a standard of conduct among the women students that will reflect only credit on our University.

The committee consists of five members, the chairman, Grace Hope; the secretary, Ruth Clendennin, and the executive, Ruth Ruttan, Janet MacLennan, and Kathleen Taylor.

To aid the Committee in carrying out its purpose, it has passed rules to which women students must adhere and which the Committee has the power to enforce. These rules are posted in the Upper and Lower Wauneita rooms, in the Women's Room in the Medical Building and in Pembina Hall. A woman student who violates these rules is sent one warning, and if she fails to heed that warning she is fined a sum fixed by the Committee.

EVERGREEN

BEFORE the ink on the last few pages of the 1937 volume of Evergreen and Gold had had ample time to dry, the initial steps were begun which ultimately were to achieve this, the latest volume.

The summer months were devoted to thoughtful planning and a continual searching for new ideas. With the opening of the fall term it became imperative to eliminate those ideas born during the heat of summer which were not practicable. Then with material partially assembled and a well organized staff, the real work of production was commenced. Slowly, but obstinately despite frequent misgivings, the book continued to take form, word by word, picture by picture, page by page, until inevitably the final result was achieved. It remains a monument, another milestone in the life of our beloved University.

The primary purpose of this is to preserve in more or less permanent form an intimate cross-section of the life and activities on this campus. It is the annual diary of the University of Alberta.

In its ultimate form it represents the combined efforts of students and faculty, and is only made possible by the unfailing cooperation of everyone concerned. It is to be hoped that the enviable standard established by its predecessors has not been permitted to falter.

With mingled pride and hesitancy we proffer it to you, the students of the University of Alberta. If you can derive at least some small measure of enjoyment from its contents, our efforts will not have been in vain.

THE STUDENTS' HANDBOOK

FOR the freshmen entering our portals for the first time the Handbook is a guide and printed information bureau regarding the campus institutions, activities and executives—it might be called an orientation booklet.

For students returning to the University after a summer away from campus activities it serves as a refresher on the same points. Proof of its value is seen in the fact that many students in the latter class voluntarily purchase it when they come back for the fall term.

This year the Handbook has endeavored to carry out former ideas and elaborate them a little by the addition of a WHO'S WHO section. It is an addition that we think will last.

The Alberta Law Quarterly

THE Alberta Law Quarterly has this year completed its fourth year of publication, and is still the only legal periodical published by the students of any university in Canada.

Under the supervision of the faculty and a student committee, the Quarterly has maintained its purpose as a valuable stimulant to student discussion and research, and as a training for cautious and constructive criticism.

This year the Quarterly acquired the additional function of devoting one issue to the publication, for the benefit of the legal profession, of some of the papers given at the annual meeting of the Law Society of Alberta.

The Quarterly wishes to take this opportunity to thank its subscribers, contributors and advertisers for their valuable support.

THE GATEWAY

"THE GATEWAY" this year has retained its reputation as one of Canada's leading college journals.

Fulfilling an ambitious publication schedule of thirty-five issues, the paper appeared twice weekly until early February when weekly publication commenced.

With the University enrollment at a record figure, more people read "The Gateway" than ever before. Favorable comments on the quality of the paper were received from all sides—evidence that the high standards of its predecessors were not relaxed.

Editorial comment, at all times sincere and outspoken, concerned itself with local, national and general topics. Particular emphasis was given to problems of student government, to the University's need for increased revenue, to the National Conference of Canadian University Students and to the issues involved in diverse political ideologies.

LLOYD HUTTON
Business Manager

The editorial staff, from the bottom up, was ambitious and enterprising. Campus news coverage was relatively complete. The sport pages were well conducted, with due prominence given to inter-fac. and co-ed sport. Features, though never submitted in large numbers, were well worth reading.

"The Gateway" retained its valuable affiliations in the Western Intercollegiate Press Group, while charter membership in the Canadian University Press brought distinction and promise of greater service to campus readers.

Other features of Volume XXVIII were: ever-improving make-up technique . . . an outstanding Christmas issue, surpassed only perhaps by the Australian Debate Special . . . ex-editor Frank Swanson's "Manhattan Merry-Go-Round". . . "From the Gallery" . . . "Co-Ediquette" . . . and the Commentator . . . frequent lateness in publication . . . liberal use of cuts . . . an unprecedented dearth of women staff members . . . and, of course, a very successful banquet and dance.

Altogether "The Gateway" may regard 1937-38 as a year of positive achievement.

The Literary Society

THE year 1937-38 has seen many successful innovations in Literary Society affairs. Inclusion of admissions to Literary functions in the "Campus A Card" presented a problem in organization, but resulted in increased attendance and enthusiasm. The Band justified its recognition by the Students' Union and admission to the Literary Society by putting on an excellent concert.

The entire post-Christmas schedule of events was changed to give more favorable positions to Dramatic functions. The arrival of Mr. Mitchell and his appointment as chairman of the new Dramatic Advisory Board has infused the society with new life. The plays in the Inter-Year Play Competition were uniformly excellent. Then Varsity sponsored and won the first Northern Alberta Sub-Regional Dramatic Festival. Our entry received unmitigated praise from the adjudicator who acclaimed it as the "perfect play." Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" was the very acceptable choice for the Spring Play.

The three major debates were unusually well attended, and Interfaculty and Parliamentary debates sustained the interest. The Political Science Club instituted a well organized series of regular lectures. The Philharmonic Society, with a student conductor, maintained its high standard in the production of "The Gondoliers." The number of performances was increased from two to three. For the Literary Society, progress has been the keynote of this very successful year.

University Band

THE BAND, its sphere of activities enlarged by its affiliation with the Students' Union in the early part of the session, justified the efforts of former years. The long-hoped-for concert became a reality, and the standard of performance displayed was ample reward for the intensive effort spent on its preparation. The University Musical Club aided in this venture. In Green and Gold uniforms the Band supplied martial music which added much to the enjoyment of rugby and hockey games. The ambitious program was extended to include an open air concert early in the session.

Throughout the year the executive enjoyed the wholehearted support of twenty-six active members. And so, with the musical side of activities capably directed by John Porter, Business Manager Geo. Robertson and Librarian Frank Riddle review a successful year.

The Political Science Club

SO IMPORTANT has become the science of government that there is much truth in the assertion: "Political Science is the Queen of the Sciences." With the ideals of democracy menaced by dictatorship, with financial and political instability in many countries, with wars now raging and the increasing possibility and fear of world-wide conflict, the study of internal government and external relations is very pertinent. The Political Science Club provides for all students of the University a meeting place where the problems of the above-mentioned conditions are discussed.

Debating Society

IF THE SUCCESS of the Debating Society in any one season is to be measured by the number of debates won, then the debating picture for 1937-38 is gloomy indeed. On the other hand if student interest and attendance and the number of debates sponsored are to count for anything, the past season has set a high mark for debating activity and enthusiasm.

The executive comprised of H. J. Bishop as President, Lorne Ingle as Secretary, Jack Brennagh, H. J. MacDonald, David Stansfield, Ed. Lewis and Marion Williams, worked hard. Visiting debaters' entertainment was splendidly arranged by Marion Williams, in the position of Social Director. The executive's chief contribution to debating history this year was the sponsorship of two Parliamentary Debates, one in the fall and a second early in March. These debates, featured by overtown speakers, brief speeches and strict Parliamentary procedure, catered to capacity crowds in Convocation Hall on both occasions, and proved to be highly entertaining.

In all, this year, the Debating Society sponsored twenty-seven debates, five of which were held in Convocation Hall. Fourteen debaters made trips to debate with outside points and other western Universities, and altogether sixty-eight persons prepared and presented speeches in University debates, and well over two thousand persons, altogether, attended.

The Australian Debate

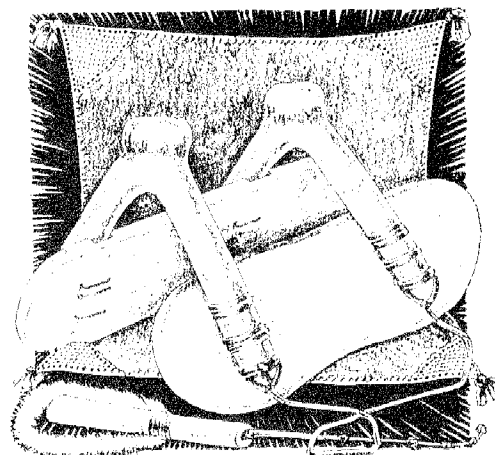

AFTER unsuccessful attempts in past years, a debating team from the University of Melbourne managed to fight its way north this year and met an Alberta team in Convocation Hall, on November 1st, on the subject: "Resolved that patriotism is out of date." In spite of a multitude of bad breaks which left one of the Australians in a San Francisco hospital with pneumonia, and one of the Albertans with his arm in a plaster cast, the debate was a distinct success. This success was greatly enhanced by the excellent publicity provided by the Gateway in printing an "Australian Debate Special," and giving the debate generous coverage.

The lone Australian orator, Chester Wilmot, a law student, won the decision over the two Albertans, Lloyd Hutton and Burt Ayre, and won also for himself the reputation of being one of the most pleasant student personalities to visit this campus in many years.

The Ottawa-McMaster Debate

SPONSORED by the N.F.C.U.S., a debating team, composed of Mr. M. Gerard Gobeille of the University of Ottawa, and Mr. Norman Dabbs of McMaster University, visited Alberta on November 17th. They met our representatives, Hugh J. MacDonald, and David Stansfield, on the topic: "Resolved that moral progress depends more largely on the reformation of the individual than on the reconstruction of society." Through skillful handling of publicity, the debate was well attended, and while the visitors were victorious, they themselves seemed to feel that they owed their victory more to Western hospitality and generosity than to any great preponderance of eloquence. Both sides presented entertaining speeches which with the chairmanship of Dean Alexander at his wittiest, made the whole thing a huge success.

THE INTER-VARSITY DEBATE

PLAGUED with the bad luck which seemed to follow all Alberta debating teams this year, Alberta's inter-varisty teams lost two debates by split decisions in the annual inter-varisty competition, which was won by the University of British Columbia. H. J. MacDonald and Jack Brennagh travelled to the University of Manitoba, while Morris Schumiatcher and Sam Epstein met the University of British Columbia debaters here. The subject in both debates was: "Resolved that an Anglo-American Alliance offers a better hope for world peace, than the principles of collective security of the League of Nations." The debate here was well attended and was featured by the best argumentative style of the season.

PUBLIC SPEAKING SOCIETY

THE purpose of the Society is to give its members some facility in the Art of public speaking. To this end, each member is subjected to constructive criticism by his fellow-members whenever he is required to give a speech.

The President of the Society is Dave Stansfield, while the executive consists of Hope Spencer, Bob Kerr, and Bill Prowse. The membership came to about twenty during the past year. Meetings are held weekly.

Up to Christmas, it was the practice of the Society to invite guest speakers to give short talks on some aspect of Public Speaking. Among these visitors were Colonel Strickland, Dr. Winifred Hughes, Dr. A. J. Cook, and Dr. Donald Dickie, of the Normal School. The Society would like to express here its appreciation of the kindness of its guests in addressing it.

After Christmas it was decided to carry on without Guest Speakers, and to institute a few changes in the proceedings of the meetings, in order to keep up the members' interest and to prevent monotony. The results were admirable, and the enthusiasm of the members reached a new peak.

Although the Society is at present still in swaddling clothes, the success of the past year points to a not very distant time when it will reach maturity, and a respectable status on the campus.

Dramatic Society

THE presence of Mr. Ronald E. Mitchell on the campus this year resulted in a new high standard being achieved in dramatics during the 1937-38 term. His extensive experience in the field of drama was greatly responsible for the more appropriate selection of plays and the improved level of acting.

Wide comment by University audiences showed their appreciation of the productions, which, they believed, were quite superior to those of previous years. This was first evident in the Inter-Year Plays Competition in November. The offering of the Freshman Class was "The Flattering Word," a gay comedy of the hypocrisy and vanity of mankind. "The Queens of France," a satire on the gullibility of human nature, was the Sophomore choice. In spite of the handicap of an unsympathetic audience, "The Vise," presented by the Senior Class was very well handled. The highlight of the evening was "The Happy Journey" which won the shield for the Juniors. Under the splendid direction of George England, this wholesome comedy not only won the sub-regional festival in Edmonton but also took top place in the Provincial Dramatic Festival in Calgary, Sheila Morrison winning the cup for the best actress in the same competition.

Enthusiasm greeted the announcement that the Spring play would be Shakespeare's immortal comedy "The Taming of the Shrew." After the presentation this enthusiasm was increased; the play was up to all expectations and was very well received.

All in all the Society enjoyed a very successful year.

The Philharmonic Society

THE production of the Gilbert and Sullivan opera "The Gondoliers" marked the climax of a most successful season for the Philharmonic Society. Directed by Mrs. T. Gardiner and Mr. T. Dalkin, the performances, three in number, were an outstanding success. The orchestra and chorus were directed by Mr. A. Andrews, law student, whose ability and energy contributed largely to the high standard of the production.

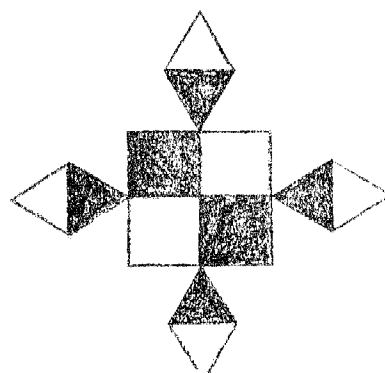

While the executive tried to fill all principal roles with University talent, it was necessary to obtain the assistance of city artists, and to them the cast and chorus are deeply indebted.

The Society in producing these operas tries to give all students interested in choral and orchestral music a chance to develop this interest. The knowledge so enjoyably gained will remain long in the memories of those taking part in any way.

The Taming of

"Pardon me yet for a night or two . . ."
Christopher Sly, found drunk in front of a tavern, is royally entertained in the house of a lord.

"And paint your face and use you like a fool . . ."
Katherine, having as yet no suitors of her own, abuses one of the numerous admirers of her sister, Bianca.

"Grumio, draw forth thy weapon!"
And does he ever draw! Petruchio, un-conventionally attired for the occasion, breaks up his own wedding party to drag Katherine home.

the Shrew

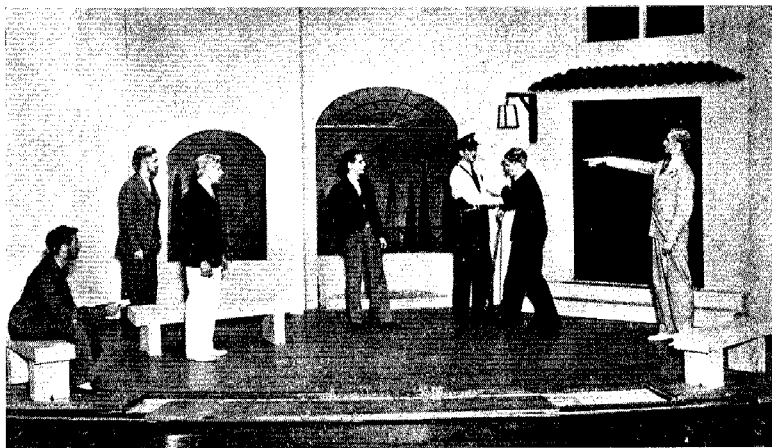

"What, do you grumble? Here, take it . . ."

The servants in Petruchio's country house come in for their share of the taming.

"Away with the dotard! To the gaol with him!"

An innocent old gentleman becomes involved in a maze of mistaken identity, and, to his bewilderment, is arrested as an imposter.

"I am asham'd that women are so simple
To offer war where they should kneel for peace,
Or seek for rule, supremacy, and sway,
When they are bound to serve, love and obey."

Katherine, with her tongue in her cheek, shows how thoroughly she has been 'tamed,' by lecturing the other wives.

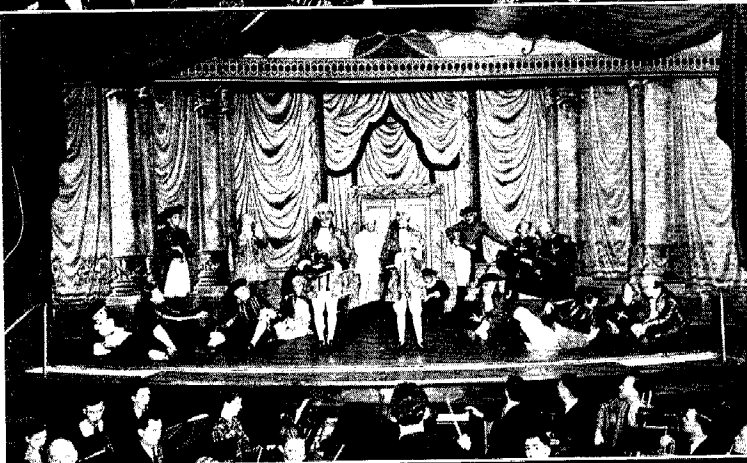

The GONDOLIERS

1. The introduction of Casilda (Eunice Healy) to the Grand Inquisitor, Don Alhambra (Jack Bradley) by her father, the Duke of Plazo-Toro (Mr. W. G. Stillman) while the Duchess (Lillian Bowley) looks on with interest. The Duke and his suite have arrived in Venice to seek for the new King of Barataria, who was married in infancy to Casilda. He was subsequently stolen during a revolt and conveyed to Venice, where by all accounts he is plying the trade of a gondolier.

2. Gianetta (Margaret Hutton), Marco (James Saks), Tessa (Paula Mayhood) and Guiseppe (James Thomson), recently wedded, bid each other a fond farewell. It seems that one of the gondolier-husbands is the king of Barataria, but, owing to an unfortunate incident, no one knows which. Therefore they are both leaving for Barataria to rule jointly until the rightful heir is identified. The wives, alas, remain at home.

3. The two kings, Marco and Guiseppe, maintain a republican court in Barataria. All, from the drummer-boy to the Lord High Chancellor, are equal in rank. The only drawback is the absence of their wives.

4. The wives are equally unhappy and so cross the sea to their husbands. On their arrival a banquet is given in their honor, and, as a climax, the fiery Spanish Cachucha is danced by the two kings and their wives.

The GONDOLIERS

5. The Duke of Plazo-Toro, with his suite, visits the court to demand the throne for his daughter and her husband "whichever it is". Casilda is not particularly interested, since she is secretly in love with Luiz (Samuel Goodman), her father's drummer-boy.

6. The young prince's foster-mother identifies Luiz as the rightful king--to Casilda's joy. The gondoliers and the maidens of their hearts are equally pleased at this unexpected ending and are now able to return to their care-free life in Venice.

MARTY DEWIS

The Kerr and Riley Trophies

Each fall a number of aspirants turn out for a gruelling cross-country race of about five miles. The winner is awarded the handsome Kerr trophy. This year the honor was taken by Marty Dewis, who also won the Riley trophy, which is awarded to the contestant turning in the best individual performance in track events and the inter-collegiate meet. Marty ran up a substantial total of eleven points to win the coveted trophy.

RILEY TROPHY

THE BEAUMONT CUP

The Agriculture Club

THE AGRICULTURE CLUB this year was very successful. From the dinner introducing the Freshmen right through the year to the wind-up formal supper-dance at the Corona Hotel, the Club enjoyed tremendous activity.

True, in the field of interfaculty competition, the debating, track and hockey teams did not top the leagues, but in soccer and freshman basketball they certainly did. There have never been so many keen participants in this line of activity.

The great increase in registration this year has made organization more difficult, the executive deserve warm praise and great credit for their splendid work, which in itself will be a challenge to their successors for more than a few years to come.

The B.Sc. Nurses' Club

SINCE 1924 the University of Alberta has offered a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing. The year 1937-38 marks a step forward both for the nurses and the University; a Faculty of Nursing has been established under the direction of Miss Agnes Macleod, R.N., M.A., one of the first graduates in this course. We are proud that Alberta was among the first Canadian Universities to raise nursing education to a university level.

Every year a larger class registers in the course; this session has shown a registration of fifty in the five years of the course, the members taking an active part in sports, inter-faculty debating and social activities on the campus. Because this year has been the initial one of the B.Sc. Nurses' Club, many people have not heard much about it yet, but don't worry—they will!

The Commerce Club

ACTIVITIES of this dynamic group began last year in Calgary with a luncheon in the Renfrew Club under the auspices of the Calgary Board of Trade and had a counterpart in the luncheon held with the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce in February this year.

There was a constant drive all year to keep in touch with business and business men. Last year's example was followed and information was placed directly in the hands of the leading business houses of the West concerning graduating Commerce students.

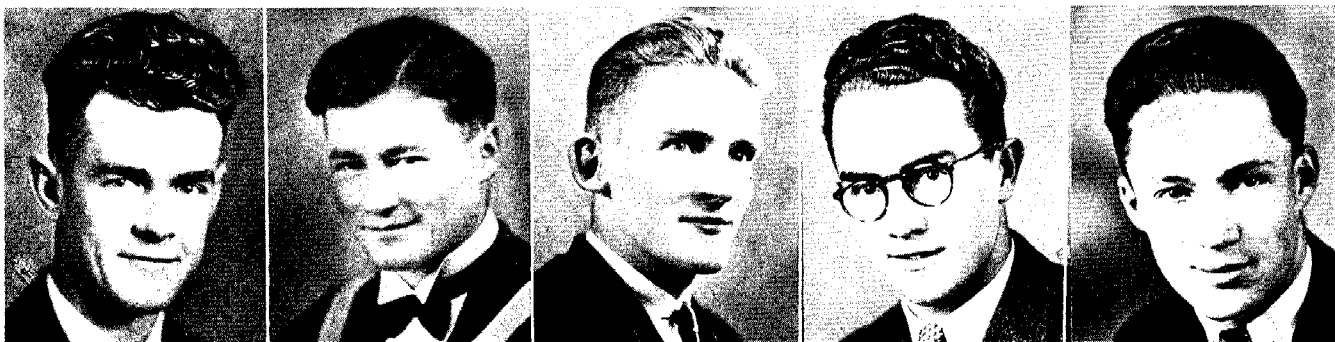

The fondest hope of the executive was that every graduating student would be assured of a position before convocation.

But social activities were not forgotten. A "mixer" party was held in the fall, luncheons with over-town speakers mixed education and entertainment, the Undergrad Ball was rated as one of the best of the year and the season ended with the big Commerce function of the year—the Banquet and dance held at the Corona.

Engineering Students' Society

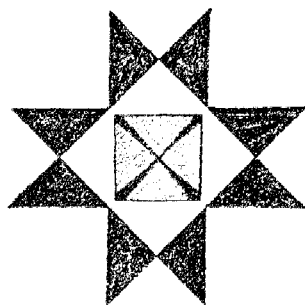

AS another University year draws to a close, the Engineering Students' Society prepares to mark it up as one of the most successful terms to the credit of its members. Interest and Faculty spirit were the highest for many a year.

Engineers were outstanding in Interfaculty Sport track, rugby, hockey and basketball. Members were also in evidence on the senior Rugby and Hockey teams.

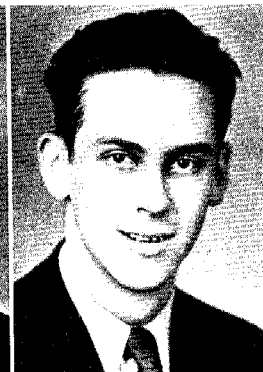

Something of a precedent was set in the Class Elections, the four presidents as well as several other officers being Engineers.

At the bi-monthly meetings excellent papers were heard from outside speakers as well as students. Extra functions, such as smokers and the Annual Banquet, were well attended and went off with a big bang.

The Society wishes to thank the Applied Science Professors for the interest shown, and especially the Honorary President, Mr. Hardy, who put himself out many times to help us enjoy a successful year.

The Law Club

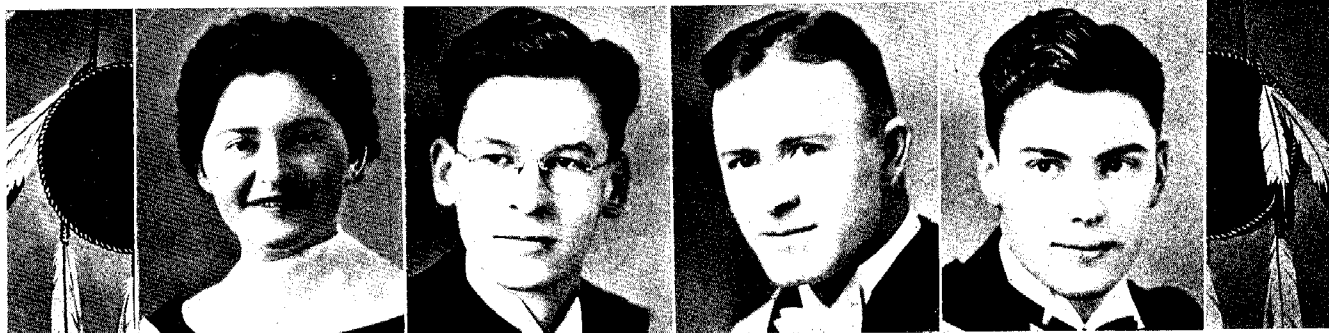

AS another season closes upon student activities, the Law Club reflects with satisfaction upon a year of noteworthy achievements and pleasant associations. Distinction was attained both through co-operative endeavor within the Club and through diverse activities of individual members. Our large faculty representation on the Students' Council is gratifying to us, as indeed our participation in debating activities. We have contributed substantially to the personnel of university athletic teams, and our basketball players have achieved prominence in interfaculty competitions. One of our members, moreover, was chosen as the first student conductor in many years of the annual university operetta. Through the continued effort of students and faculty, "The Alberta Law Quarterly" is winning recognition as a legal periodical. The social activities of the Law Club have been much enjoyed. Regular luncheons were held throughout the year and proved pleasant and profitable through the contributions of guest speakers. The annual Law Banquet held at the Macdonald Hotel was a fitting close to a year's activities.

We shall continue to look to the Law Club with assurance of its further usefulness in the interests of its members and as an influential factor in the broader phases of university life.

The Household Economics Club

THE HOUSEHOLD ECONOMICS CLUB concludes its twelfth successful year. The influence of this Club is an ever increasing one, as has been shown by the increased membership. We feel that the members have become better acquainted with each other and with the faculty, with a consequent development of goodwill.

This year the Club was most fortunate in hearing outstanding speakers, such as Miss Ruth Graham, a former graduate now on the staff of John Hopkins Hospital, Miss Mabel Dickson of Washington, D.C., and Miss Laura Pepper of Ottawa. Thus the meetings hold the greatest interest for all, not only do we hear the work of outstanding "House-Eccers," but we become acquainted with new fields of opportunity.

The annual banquet and dance, the single formal function of the Club, was again held in the Corona Hotel, with a very large number attending.

The Club is proud of the many campus activities carried on by its members, in executives, athletics, dramatics and the Philharmonic Society.

One of our greatest assets is the wonderful co-operation of the staff, and to them go our sincere and grateful thanks. We who are leaving wish to extend to Class '39 our best wishes, with the hope that membership in the Club will mean to them all that it has to us.

MEDICAL CLUB: advancement, innovations, spirit

THE MEDICAL CLUB engineered a good start when, as a new procedure, it operated a table at registration and secured a clientele of junior year men exceeding that of all previous years.

A real achievement was the adoption of the proposed constitution written last spring. This together with a large enrollment augurs well for future years. An admirable spirit among the artistically-gifted embryo physicians produced a new Med crest which has received the enthusiastic approval of the whole club.

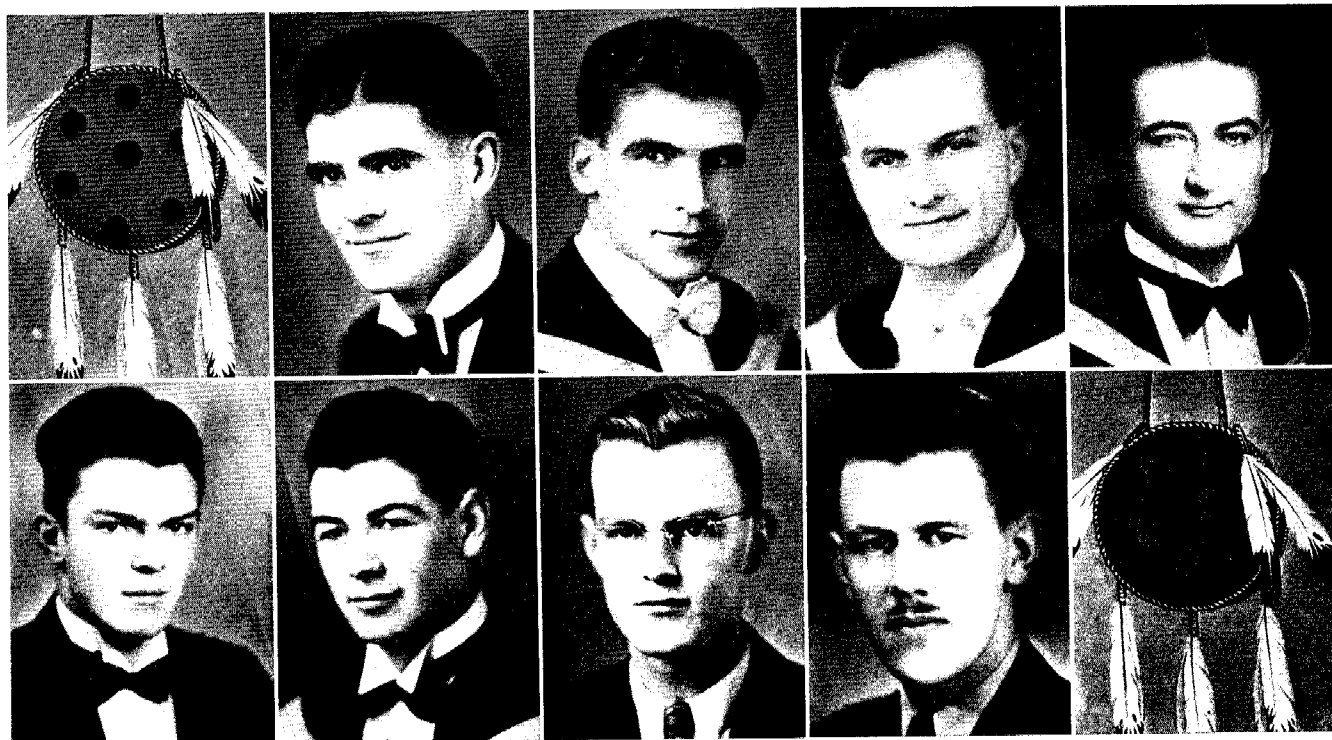

With record attendance, those outstanding functions of past years, the Med. Ball, and the Med. Banquet were again the highlights of one of the most successful years the Club has enjoyed.

The Pharmacy Club

FAVORED by a large enrollment in the School of Pharmacy, the Club enjoyed a large membership. Our activities, as always, were many and varied.

An acquaintance dance early in the fall served to mix the new students with the old. Our monthly supper meetings, at which various guest speakers were present, were very well attended and proved very enjoyable. A first opportunity to meet with the Council of the Alberta Pharmaceutical Association was eagerly seized by the Club and resulted in an unique and profitable meeting, at which the "old boys" proved to be very popular.

In the Interfac Debates our team was "taken" by a couple of Nurses, but we retrieved that loss elsewhere. Pharmacy was well represented in Dramatics by George England, in Sport by Tommy Forhan (senior rugby), Jean Cogswell (basketball), George Walker (rugby and basketball) and Al McEwen (interfac hockey).

The year's activities closed with a bigger and better banquet at the Macdonald in the Spring.

THE S.C.M. has finished another successful year with a marked increase in membership. Through week-end conferences, Study Groups, Sunday Services and Firesides, students have been given the opportunity to discuss the problems of vital importance confronting the student of today.

This year we have been fortunate in having Miss Mary Hope Simpson of England as our local Secretary. We have also had visits from our General Secretaries, Mr. Beverley Oaten, Miss Margaret Kinney and Rev. Phil Beatty, and the Secretary of the World Student Federation, Mlle. Suzanne de Dietrich.

The School of Education

IN step with the march of progress in educational thought and theory, the School of Education has ventured out into hitherto unexplored fields. Drama, junior business and physical training have been added to the course and many other innovations made so as to give our graduates the most advanced and modern training possible.

From our point of vantage as we look back on the trail we have travelled during this last term, it seems incredible that so much could have been crowded into so short a space of time. Our daily round has been concerned with lectures, conventions, meetings, radio broadcasts, practice teaching and a legion of other activities which, tumbling one upon another, has left us little time to reflect on the swift passing of the term; it is only now at the end of the course that we realize with something like a shock that the year is gone.

It has been a year of keen interest, of new friendships, of an ever-increasing appreciation of the problems and achievements of Education—a year whose conclusion we regard with deep regret.

Mining and Geological Society

THE MINING AND GEOLOGICAL SOCIETY has completed, what is probably its most successful year since its inauguration in 1914. The membership reached a new high mark, more than 50 per cent. over last year.

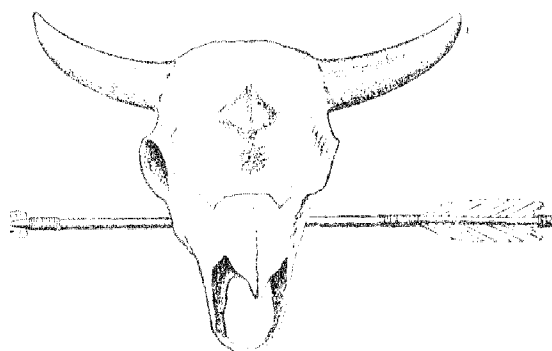

All meetings were well attended, due mainly to the excellent papers presented, among which were several student papers. The papers covered mining and geology problems among which were the following: Turner Valley, Frood Mine of International Nickel, Britannia Mines, Northwest Territories and Oil Sand Coring in Trinidad.

A memorial meeting was held in the Spring in honor of Dr. D. B. Dowling and an account of his works on the Southern Plains of Alberta was presented.

The Society wishes to thank Dr. Clark and other members of the faculty for their help and advice which have made this year so successful.

DALETH AYIN BETH
Born 1930

THIS precocious child of culture has passed the stage of merely kicking its feet in experiment and has entered upon the serious business of finding out what makes the wheels go round. Its members have worked in harmony towards that end and all of them feel that the year has meant growth for each and the body as a whole. To its wondering gaze the era of depression has passed and now it looks forward to the dawn of a new period. As a gesture of encouragement to all and sundry who are interested, it has again proffered that silver jewel, that rich competitive plum, that bauble to dazzle the mercenary, ambitious eye-- the Political Economy Club Prize for Political Economy 1. Osler Club

THE OSLER CLUB, founded in memory of the late Sir William Osler, is only one of a number of similar clubs formed all over the continent to perpetuate the name and ideals of Canada's great physician. At Alberta the club consists of the graduating class in medicine, and was again this year under the sponsorship of Dr. J. J. Ower. The meetings were held in St. Joseph's College fortnightly at each of which an historical paper, a case report and a pathological treatise were presented by members and discussed by the club. The Osler Club has a unique value, supplementing purely academic and practical training, providing an open forum where scientific problems, ethics and more general topics can be threshed out.

The executive wishes to express thanks to Dr. Ower and to Dr. M. M. Cantor for their interest in the welfare of the club and for leading discussion at the meetings.

1. The causa causans of this year's fracas between the Engineers and the Meds. . . when the cocky engineers flaunted their crest in the eyes of the ever willing Meds.
2. One afternoon in the late fall, soon after the melee over the crest the engineers besiege the Medical Building and are met by a sudden barrage of powerful streams of water from the fire hoses, and rotten eggs by the dozens.
3. There ensued a battle royal when the two opposing forces met in a hand to hand struggle in which the horrified Sammy Epstein was derobed.

4. The conflict continues with few serious bodily injuries but a general annihilation of clothing.
5. The weary attackers withdraw for a brief recess, and by this time lectures and labs have been temporarily abandoned while onlookers from all the rest of the faculties watch the proceedings.
6. The Med. Students retaliate with an attack on the Engineering Lab.

7. The battle continues with more mud, more water and more eggs . . . here we see one of the Engineers apparently discovering that it is his own hand he has been biting.

9. The battle wages madly . . . the Meds are slowly pressed back to their own embattlements and here we see the walls of the Medical Building being stormed this time from the rear, by way of the dump-cart.

10. They're up . . . they're down . . . windows are smashed and tch tch tch, that twenty-dollars-a-foot drain pipe is bent again.

Athletic Director

THIS year for the first time, the University of Alberta has an athletic director. The importance of correlated sport and the recognition of a life-time of enthusiasm and devotion are symbolized in the appointment of Mr. Jake Jamieson to this office. Since the age of ten years Jake has given of his time and energy to various forms of sport, and his achievements in rugby, hockey, basketball, soccer, tennis, swimming, boxing and badminton leave no doubt of his value to Alberta. This year marks his fifth as a coach in western Canada, previous to which he coached in the east after a broken neck put him permanently off the playing field of the rougher sports. His genial personality counts for much in the work he is doing for Alberta, and his widespread popularity was evidenced upon the occasion of his marriage last year and again when he was appointed Athletic director. The best wishes of all the students go with him as he enters upon his new office.

When asked whether we could quote him on any particular topic, Jake immediately replied: "Tell them I strongly favor a compulsory athletic card."

THE ROOTERS CLUB

THE primary object of the Rooters Club is to arouse student interest and enthusiasm in Varsity sports. Towards this end several Pep Rallies were held in the Fall to acquaint the Freshmen with the yells and stimulate their interest.

This year the Club consisted of four members, Fred Pritchard, Bill Ireland, Fred McKinnon and Doug Buchanan, at least two of whom were present at most of the Rugby, Hockey and Basketball games. The anticipated support of the student body was not forthcoming, however, and consequently the cheering was not as successful as it might have been.

Recommendations that might remedy this situation in future years are: Freshmen organized in a definite cheering section at each game, and a more varied program, which is only possible with a better knowledge of the yells. The Rooters Club hopes that definite action will be taken on these suggestions.

UNIVERSITY athletics during 1937-38 enjoyed a very successful year. Alberta combined with Saskatchewan and British Columbia to form a Western Canada Inter-collegiate Rugby Conference. In its inaugural year the Conference enjoyed an unusual degree of success which ensures its continuance. The Track Team, at Saskatoon, placed second in the W.C.I.A.U. meet at which the four western universities competed. The Hockey Club fielded the best team in years, which retained the Halpenny Trophy, and also travelled to Spokane to engage Gonzaga University in an international series. The Bears won this series, and also were Northern Alberta Intermediate champions. The Basketball Team as usual well represented Alberta in its own field.

Minor sport clubs all showed unusual activity, having many successes and few losses.

Interfaculty athletics attracted more than usual interest, and plans to give this branch of sport more facilities in the coming year are well under way.

A new Athletic Board has been set up for the next year, which will put University athletics on a firmer basis. This year's work has ensured that next year will be a banner one.

Women's Athletics

THE year 1937-38 has been a very successful one for women's sports. The new talent brought in by the freshettes has been very welcome and has helped the members from former years to keep Alberta to the fore.

Inter-collegiate sport has been very prominent, and has done a great deal to help foster better relations between the students of the western universities.

In practically all branches, women's athletics have shown a gratifying improvement. Once more the basketball team retained the cup. A very successful swimming meet was held in Saskatoon, the Alberta girls taking all the honors. Tennis, track and badminton are other activities in which the girls have shown up very well indeed.

Much of our success can be attributed to our excellent coaches, and we desire to acknowledge our debt to them. To all those who participated we also wish to express our thanks, and to those who do not graduate we say, "We'll be seeing you next year."

PRE-SEASON workouts under the direction of Jake Jamieson put the players in fine shape for the season. W. C. "Bill" Broadfoot acted as regular coach and fielded a well-organized squad with half of last year's team and recruits from inter-faculty and freshmen players. A change in the rules made necessary a change in playing tactics which materially affected the team.

The Bears played 8 games with E.A.C., U. of S., and U.B.C., 2 of which were played at U.B.C. Varsity won 2, tied 1 and lost 5. A summary of the games follows:

The team wishes to express its hearty thanks to Coach Broadfoot for his splendid work and spirit, and for the establishment of a coaching class in the winter, to Managers Bill Pryde and Ken Clarke, and to Head-trainer George Casper.

E.A.C.—6; Varsity—6

This opening game showed a good brand of rugby and satisfied Coach Broadfoot that his new system of plays would work. E.A.C. ran up the score first, but the Bears came from behind with the traditional fighting spirit.

U. of S. 16; Varsity—1

This game was much closer than the score would indicate. The Huskies unleashed a high-powered aerial attack, while the Bears were distinguished by effective line plays.

E.A.C.—12; Varsity—0

Varsity bowed before a superiority of passing and punting and interference. Rule and Wilson stood out for the Bears.

U.B.C. 6; Varsity 15

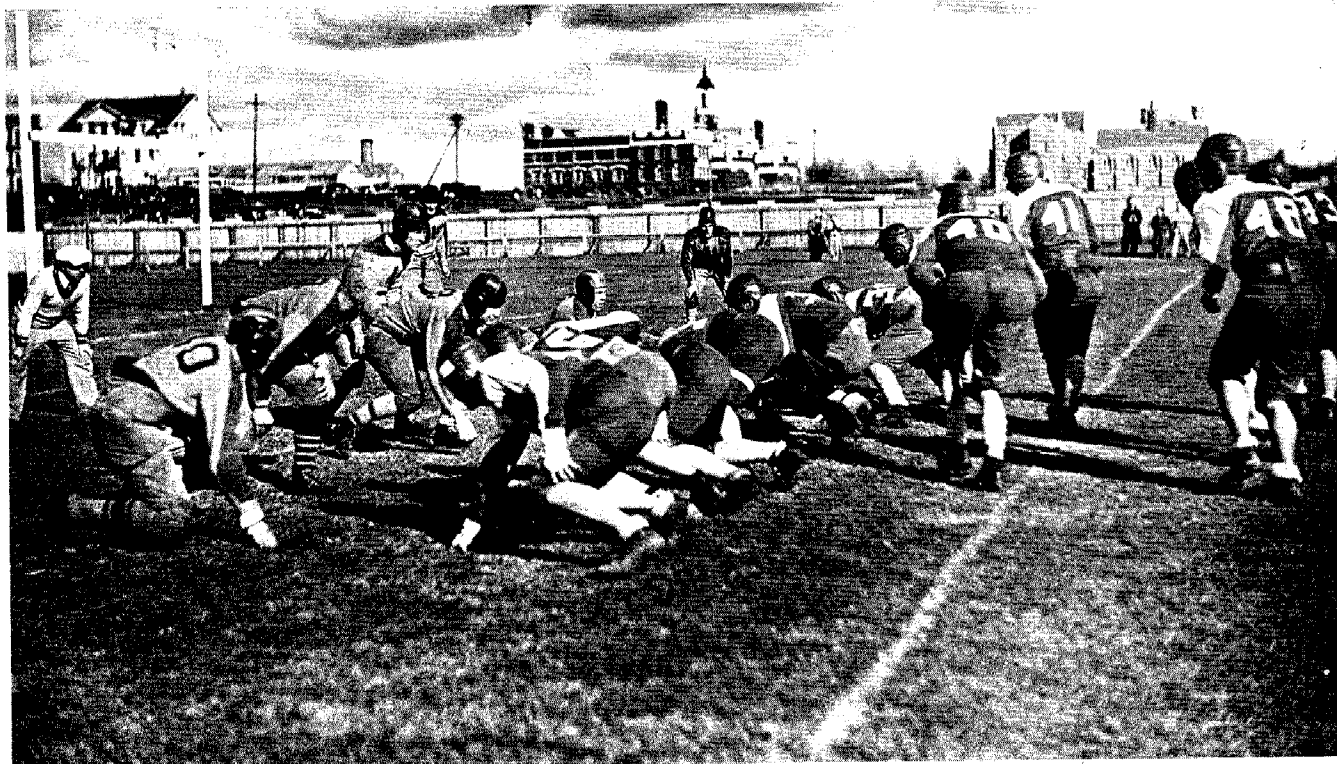

Sparked by Wes Henricks at quarter-back, the Bears took a well-earned win from a much heavier team. The real power of Coach Broadfoot's plays was clearly shown as the Bears outplayed the Thunderbirds in every department.

U. of S.—22; Varsity—1

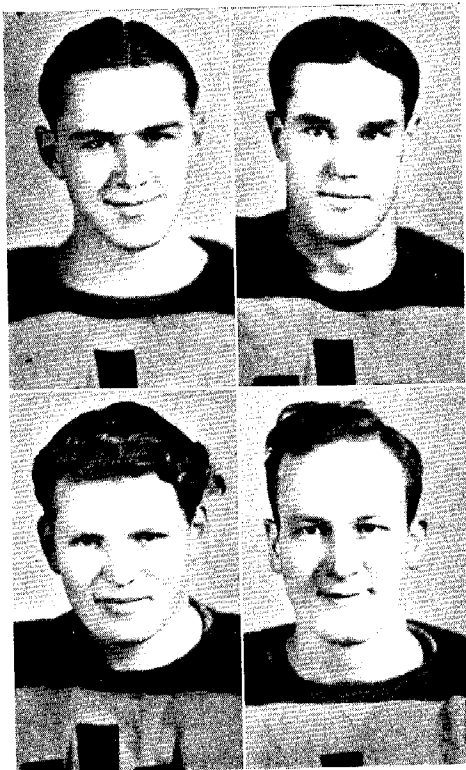

Although handicapped by the loss of several regulars, including Wes Henricks and Tommy Forhan, Varsity put up a stubborn battle until the fourth quarter. Then with the score 5-1, the Huskies romped through for three major scores in the last few minutes.

THE TEAM

THE GOLDEN BEARS of 1937-38 have turned in one of the best set of performances seen on the campus in many a year. Under the able coaching of Art Townsend, former Easkimo defense star, the team ran up an impressive list of victories with few defeats to mar the record sheet. They successfully defended the Halpenny Trophy and won the northern Alberta League Championship.

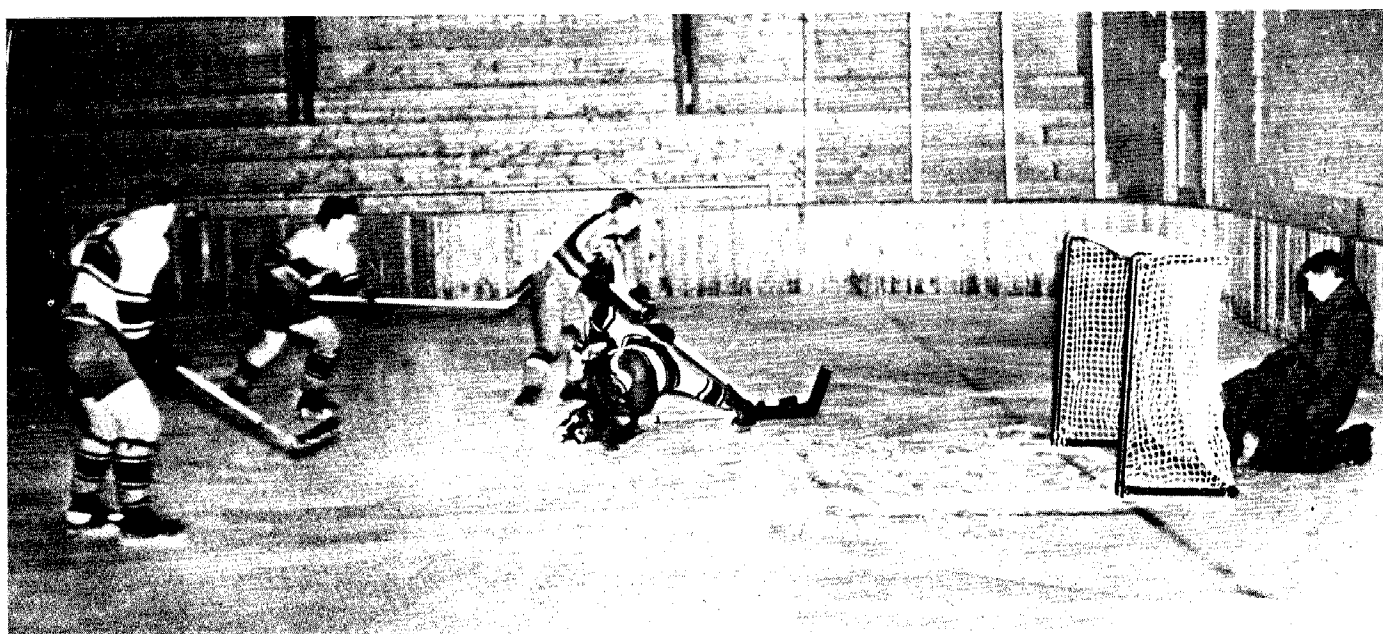

Between the pipes was Gray McLaren, an experienced rubber-shedder. On defense Bill Stark (a star of five years' standing), Dave MacKay (a star in his first year), Frank Hall (a reliable for the last two seasons), and Bob Zender (a four years' veteran) made things unpleasant for the opposing forwards. Varsity's offensive was brilliantly carried by Don Stanley (1st year), Pat Costigan (3rd year), Doug Sharpe (3rd year), Bud Chesney (1st year), Sammy Costigan (2nd year), Vernon Drake (2nd year), Marty Dewis (2nd year), Bob Graves (1st year), Brian Gore (1st year), and Paul Rentiers (1st year). George Casper managed the team and Lloyd Wilson and Bill Haddad did their bit as trainers.

WOMEN'S HOCKEY

1937-38 proved another successful year in Women's Hockey. Art Townsend started the season early and by enthusiastic coaching worked the team into good condition. The four Freshettes who gained places on the team soon fitted into the play of last year's veterans. Three games were played against the Muttarts in the city league, and although they lost the cup, Varsity made a good showing in all three. The girls should certainly be given credit for their gameness and sportsmanship when forced to play the last game of the series with only seven players.

Plans are being made, as this goes to press, for a trip to Edson to play for the Provincial Hockey Trophy.

Helen Rose, our goalie, played outstanding hockey in every game. Marg Burton, Jean Smith and Helen Stone combined to form one forward line, which with a little more practice should really click. On the other forward line were Audrey Stephenson and Marion Chesney, two well-seasoned players, along with Freshette Betty Jacobs. We were fortunate in having Jane Diamond back on defense this year with Marg Stone, the backbone of the team for the last three years. Two Freshettes, Joan Ormrod and Gwen Robinson also played well on defense.

Much credit and thanks go to Pat Costigan and "Gubby" Gore who coached the team when Art Townsend was away. It is hoped that as much interest will be shown in Women's Hockey early in the season next year.

MEN'S SENIOR BASKETBALL

WITH the year quickly approaching its climax and a season's review of Basketball being in order, the task becomes a pleasant one.

The basketball season got under way with the innovation of a Freshmen league, who played ball a good two weeks before the senior practices swung into action. Much good material came from this "green" league, and two found permanent berths in the senior team.

With changes in the ruling that compelled a revision of all type of play formerly used by Varsity, "Jake" Jamieson turned to the task and had soon a team well drilled in screen plays and fast breaks.

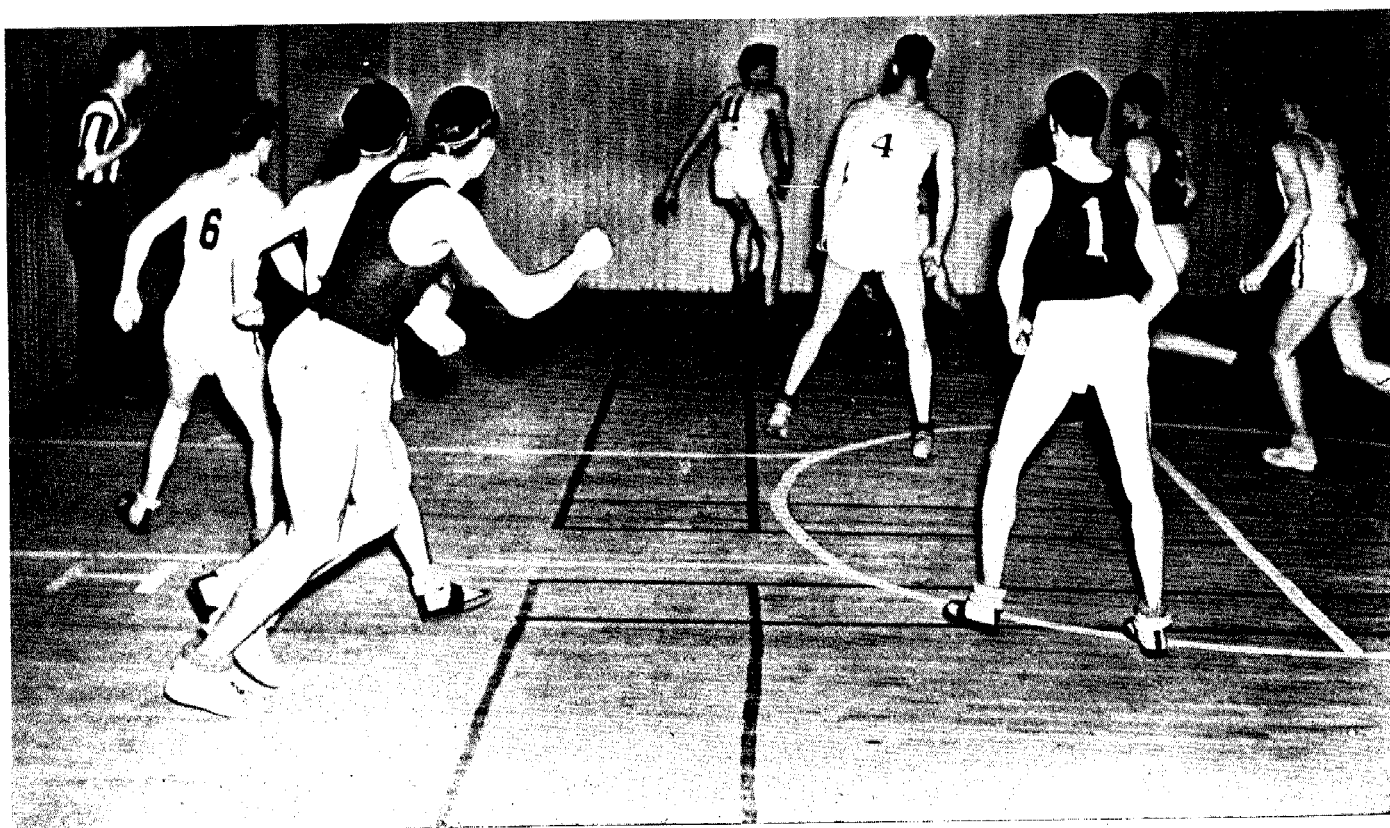

However they were against good opposition in the Inter-collegiate series and it may have been that their peak had not yet been reached when the series was played, but nevertheless, after coming home from two games at Saskatoon nineteen points down, they made it up all but six on their own floor.

These Inter-collegiate games again exemplified the good sportsmanship and spirit of healthy rivalry that exists and has existed in this sport.

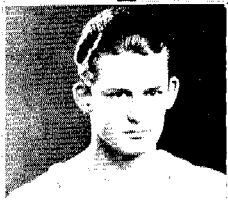

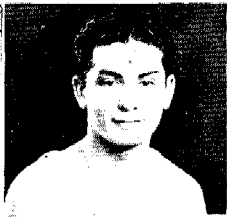

This defeat was shortly compensated by winning the city championship composed of four teams, and after this the 'Varsity Bears were up against an "All Star Team" in the form of the Y.M.C.A. Redskins for the Northern Provincial championship.

In one of the most thrilling series of the year Varsity won the first two games, lost the next two, and emerged as a fighting team to win the last and final game, earning the right to compete for the Provincial championship with the winning team from the south and central zones.

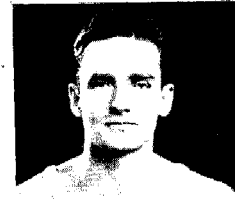

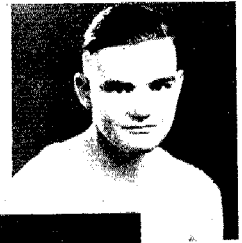

May their victories be widespread, numerous and diversified.

Women's Senior Basketball

WOMEN'S Basketball enjoyed a very successful year. Out of the twenty aspirants to senior ranks at the first practice, a well-balanced team of ten was chosen by Coach Jake Jamieson.

Although they dropped the first game in the Intercollegiate series to Saskatchewan, Alberta rallied in the second to win the series by sixteen points, thereby winning the Cecil Race trophy for the thirteenth consecutive year.

In the local league of Wasps, Comets and Varisty, the girls placed second.

For the first time in several years the co-ed team travelled to Calgary, but met defeat from the Safeway team, which plays in a league really senior to ours.

The House League Section also has had a good season, with the Tri Delts coming out on top. This is the first year for awards to be made to these players.

THE University of Alberta commenced a very active and highly successful season on September 16th, with the opening of pre-season training. The inter-faculty track meet was held on Saturday, October 2nd, and though greeted by a very chilly day, there was a good turnout of both spectators and competitors.

Individual honors went to Dick Shillington, while the Arts men took the faculty honors. Three records were shattered. Ian Cook vaulted to a height of 6 feet to break his own record of 5 feet 11 inches, set in 1936. Marty Dewis bettered the time of his brother, Jack Dewis, in the half-mile by 2-5 of a second, running it in 2.04 2-5. He also lowered the time in the mile to 4.54 4-5.

The spotlight next turned to the annual W.C.I.A.U. Meet held in Saskatoon on Thanksgiving Day, Monday, October 11th. This was destined to be a memorable track meet, for it inaugurated the new Griffith's Stadium and also brought into competition the University of British Columbia, who sent a four-man track team. A bitter cold day slightly hampered the athletes, but all events were run off like clockwork. Alberta was represented by a ten-man team. Manitoba again won the Cairn's Trophy, the final score reading: Manitoba, 62; Alberta, 33; British Columbia, 27; and Saskatchewan, 21. The Riley Trophy for high score went to Marty Dewis with 11 points.

The five-mile road race for the Kerr Trophy concluded the season and eight entries took the trail on a fine Saturday afternoon. Marty Dewis won the race in 29 minutes, 20 seconds, breaking the record of 32 minutes, 47 seconds, held by his brother, Jack Dewis.

THE turn-out for women's track this year was the best yet and it was not long before Coach Ernie Williams had a dozen girls in condition for the Interfac Meet on October 2nd.

Although it was very cold the events were well filled and competition was so keen that it may be chalked up as one of the most successful field days yet held. All the girls showed a high brand of sportsmanship. Cathie Rose carried the day as high scorer.

It was difficult to select the team to represent Alberta at the Intercollegiate Meet in Saskatoon on October 11th. Mary Frost, Cathie Rose, Jean Holowach, Mary McConkey and Helen Rose were chosen. Although Manitoba won the honors, Alberta was close behind, and if the same enthusiasm is shown again next year we should have an excellent chance of winning the trophy in '38.

Boxing and Wrestling

BOB McCULLOUGH, Neil German and Jack Wickett brought this hard hitting club through another season that measured up to the standard set when Wally Beaumont took over the coaching duties.

From a record number of beginners in the early fall contestants were chosen for the Inter-faculty Tournament that was a proving ground for the men who would be chosen to represent the University against Saskatchewan.

The Inter-varsity Tournament ended with an equal number of wins for each team. Under the coaching of Emil Van Velzen the wrestlers showed a great improvement and the boxers had a decided superiority over the fighters from the University of Saskatchewan.

Winners of Wrestling "A's" were Mel Taylor, Earl Christie, Gene McPherson, Jack Wickett and Bob Folinsbee, and Boxing "A's" went to Neil German, Bob Foster, Bob McCullough, Lloyd McLaren, Les Willox and Denny Hogan. Winners of Interfaculty awards were Cameron, Hansen, Mickey Kyle, Frank Cowle, and Lenard Pallesen.

Swimming

DESPITE the lack of immediate facilities, swimming proved a popular sport for the 1937-38 season.

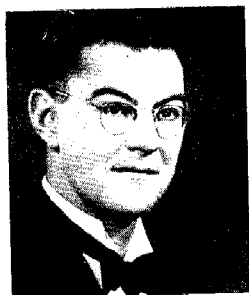

Alberta's Ladies' team gained a 51-23-7 victory in the three university swimming competition at Saskatoon. Mary McConkey and Carmen McRae carried the majority of points. The men's team found themselves in fast company and lost to Saskatchewan and Manitoba. Bruce Keith broke the intercollegiate breast-stroke record, although defeated by a Manitoba swimmer.

Although inveterate enemies, the Med students and the Engineers joined forces in the Interfaculty competition. They bowed to defeat however before an Arts-Ag-Ec-Law aggregation when a tie of 74-74 was broken in the final event.

Swimming at Alberta would be one of the leading sports if students had ready access to a pool. As it is, practices are too few to allow the coach to radically change the stroke of his swimmers. With but thirteen turnouts, he can give them guidance only on the style they already use.

THE INTERCOLLEGIATE TEAM

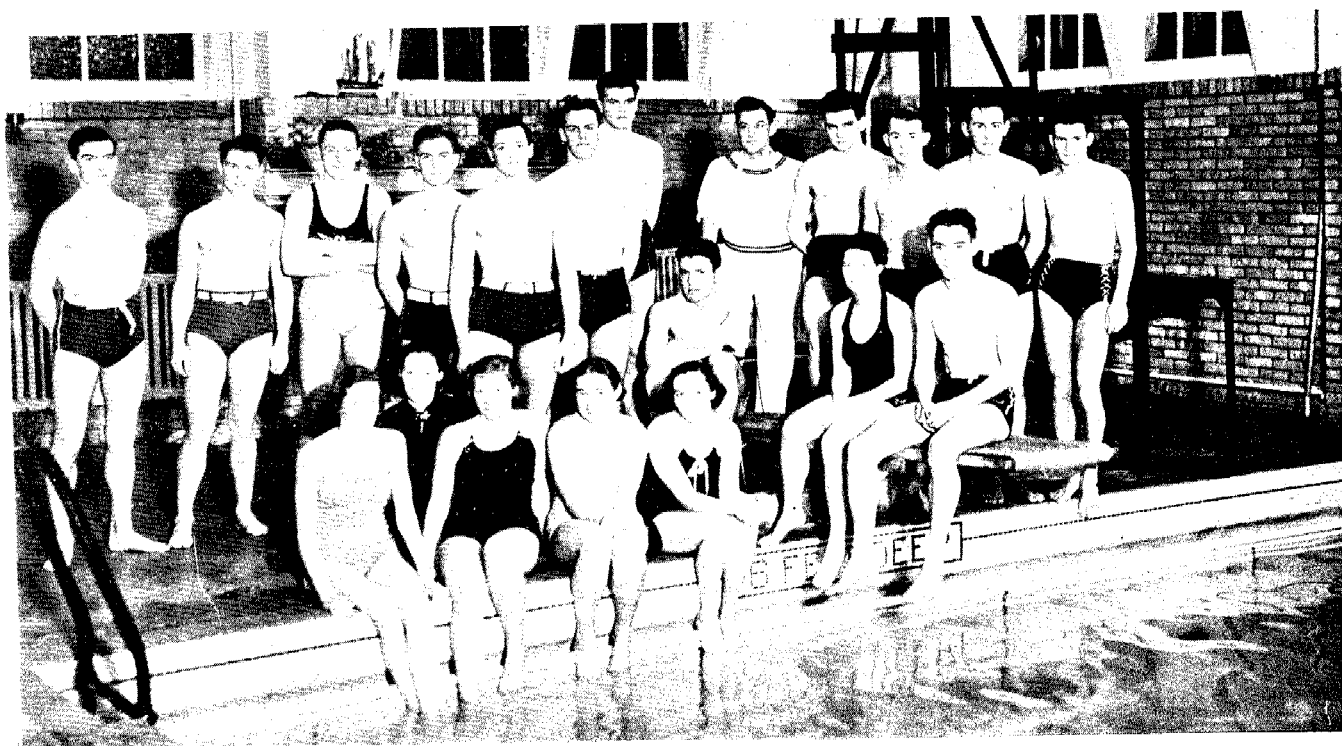

BILL ZEIGLER
Coach

Presidents Mary McConkey and Pat Rose successfully led their teammates through two galas. They were fortunate in again having Bill Zeigler as coach and manager.

The Men's Intercollegiate team consisted of Pat Rose, Bruce Keith, Jack Bergmann, Murray Smith, Lloyd Greer, and Gordon Wilson. The decisive win in the ladies' competition was gained by Mary McConkey, Carmen McRae, Marian Morrison, Helen Fox, and Margaret Hughes.

The trip to Saskatoon at the end of February brought swimming activity to an enjoyable conclusion.

FENCING

SALUTE! The thrilling dramatic sport of fencing, now under the Students' Union, is progressing more and more the students are realizing the value of fencing, especially under such an expert instructor as Coach Wetterburg. It gives poise, agility and all-round physical efficiency, and enjoyment without limit. No other sport can match the lightning speed and time, coupled with unerring co-ordination of aim and movement. In the shadows of each mind flash fond memories of the Count of Monte Cristo and the Three Musketeers the sparkling blades of those gallants seem not too far away.

The club was fortunate in having several young lady members who showed fine progress. Our lady champion for the past two years, Helen Jenkins, was also secretary this year, and with Vincent Hyland as President, the club was most efficiently managed; new equipment was added and a very promising group of fencers will return next fall to aid newcomers.

The first Intercollegiate tournament with Saskatchewan took place this year, Alberta being represented by Leonard Gads, Dick Hoar, and James Saks. Next year there will be even stronger competition to make this team.

So, until then we wait for the familiar: En garde; play!

SKIING

THE VARISTY SKI CLUB looks back on the past season with justifiable pride. Through the driving efforts of President Ralph Fisher our long-desired cabin became a reality; while the able coaching of Stan Ward brought many recruits, including Mr. Healy, our first Honorary President.

A constitution was established, regular meetings were held, and lessons were given every weekend. The cabin was built, new runs cleared, and movies and talks given to rouse enthusiasm. Actual highlights were a moonlight hike and a pancake party (yum, yum!).

The holidays brought us a tragic loss when John Bulyea was killed by an avalanche on Mt. Schaffer. We shall not soon forget this humorous, talented, out-of-doors man to whom the club owes so much.

Competition achievement: Ivan Jackson won the Men's Longest Standing, and came second in Class A in the Edmonton Tournament; Stan Ward placed well in the Banff Winter Carnival, was first in the city slalom race, and received the Burns' trophy for the best skier of the year; Ralph Fisher placed third in the city slalom race.

A successful banquet at the Corona Hotel closed the season.

THE ENGINEER TEAM INTERFACULTY CHAMPIONS

Interfaculty Rugby

THIS YEAR the league consisted of the same faculty teams as last year. Arts-Ag-Comm-Law, Engineers, Pharm-Med-Dents and Freshmen were all out in search of the title.

Unlike previous years there were no play-offs, the championship being decided on straight league standing. Most of the games were run off on schedule, although there were some delays due to lack of equipment.

The Engineers emerged as the new champions, playing through the entire season without a loss. Arts-Ag-Comm-Law and Pharm-Med-Dents tied for second place. Nearly all the games were hard fought and featured by close scoring.

Interfaculty Basketball

THIS year the Interfaculty Basketball League consisted of a greater number of well-balanced teams, which resulted in a higher calibre of play throughout and a consequent interest and enthusiasm unknown in previous years. The fact that two men stepped up into senior ranks is indicative of the high brand of ball played. Eight teams Arts, Ag, Comm, Law, Med "A", Med "B", Pharm-Dents, and Engineers were entered.

Playing a twenty-eight game schedule, the Engineers emerged in first place, with Med "A" team in second, and the Arts, Law and Commerce tied for third. Commerce pulled out of this tie and then lost by a small margin to the Med "A" team in the semi-final. In the two-out-of-three series for the championship, the Engineers came through to take two straight, and the title.

THE ENGINEER TEAM INTERFACULTY CHAMPIONS

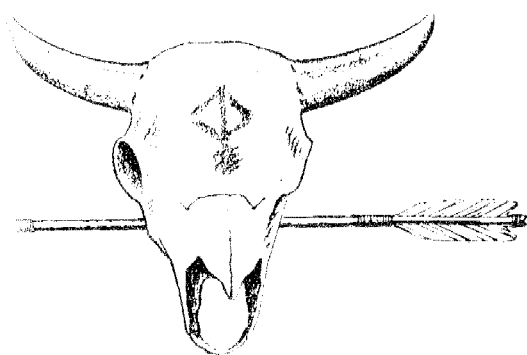

THE ARTS TEAM INTERFACULTY CHAMPIONS

Interfaculty Soccer

S OCCER played a prominent part in the sport program of last autumn. Practices got under way early and the season was opened by an exhibition game between Varsity and Clondonald.

The Interfaculty League was composed of three teams: Arts, Ags., and Med-Dent-Science, managed by S. Cosburn, J. Grimble and W. Fraser respectively. A six-game series was played, from which the Arts emerged as champions with Ags. placing second.

The season was finished by the annual banquet and election of officers.

Badminton Club

THE BADMINTON Club, under the guiding hands of Bill Tobey and Sheila Stewart, completed a very successful year with a membership of almost forty. Two tournaments were held, an American Tournament at the start of the season, and the annual Varsity Tournament in January. Bill Tobey and Louise Marshall, as a result of the tournament, became the new champions.

This year two matches were played against the Faculty Club. In the final result, the Club team, after dropping the first match, was slightly ahead in points.

A team was entered in both the City and Provincial Tournaments. Although no championships were secured, the Club made a very good showing, due mainly to the efforts of Rae Fisher, Bill Tobey and Louise Marshall.

TENNIS

AS A RESULT of the fall University Tennis Tournament, Maxine Thorburn, Jean Cogswell, Sam Costigan and Bill Stark represented Alberta in the annual intercollegiate tennis meet with the University of Saskatchewan. The meet, held in Saskatoon this year, was again won by Alberta, for the sixth consecutive time. Thus the high standard set by previous teams was again maintained.

The annual tournament was not quite completed in the fall, due to unfavorable weather. In the women's section Maxine Thorburn won the title and Varsity will look forward to her sparkling play for the next few years. Jean Cogswell was the other semi-finalist, and Gertrude Ellert also played a very good game. The men's events were not completed.

Inter-Faculty Hockey

ON FEBRUARY 24 the Inter-fac hockey boys hung up their skates, having completed another very successful term in the Varsity rink. Seventy-five well-fought games showed consistent good sportsmanship, and although some of the teams seemed hoodooed as far as wins went, everyone agreed that it really was fun.

The Enginners romped victoriously through the "A" League schedule, losing only one game, which went to the Pharm-Dents. The Arts-Ag-Comm-Law team couldn't seem to shake their jinx, and didn't make the play-offs. In the semi-finals the Med boys excelled themselves with two shut-outs over the Pharm-Dents and thus earned the right to clash with their age-long rivals, the Engineers, for the title. In a serious series, the Slide-rulers pushed through for the Interfac Hockey crown.

The "B" brothers of the "A" winners had an even more phenomenal year, emerging from the heap with nary a single loss. Arts-Ag-Comm-Law sailed along in easy second place, while the Meds and Pharm-Dents battled for the cellar, from which the Pharm-Dents shot into the play-offs by one lone point. In the play-offs the A.A.C.L. gang took care of the boys of the molar and mortar, and were themselves tucked away by the Engineers.

The season was marred by several major accidents, notably to Andy Elder, Doug Brimacombe and Jack Dewis. The latter two spent some time in the hospital as a result, but all are now as active and energetic as ever.

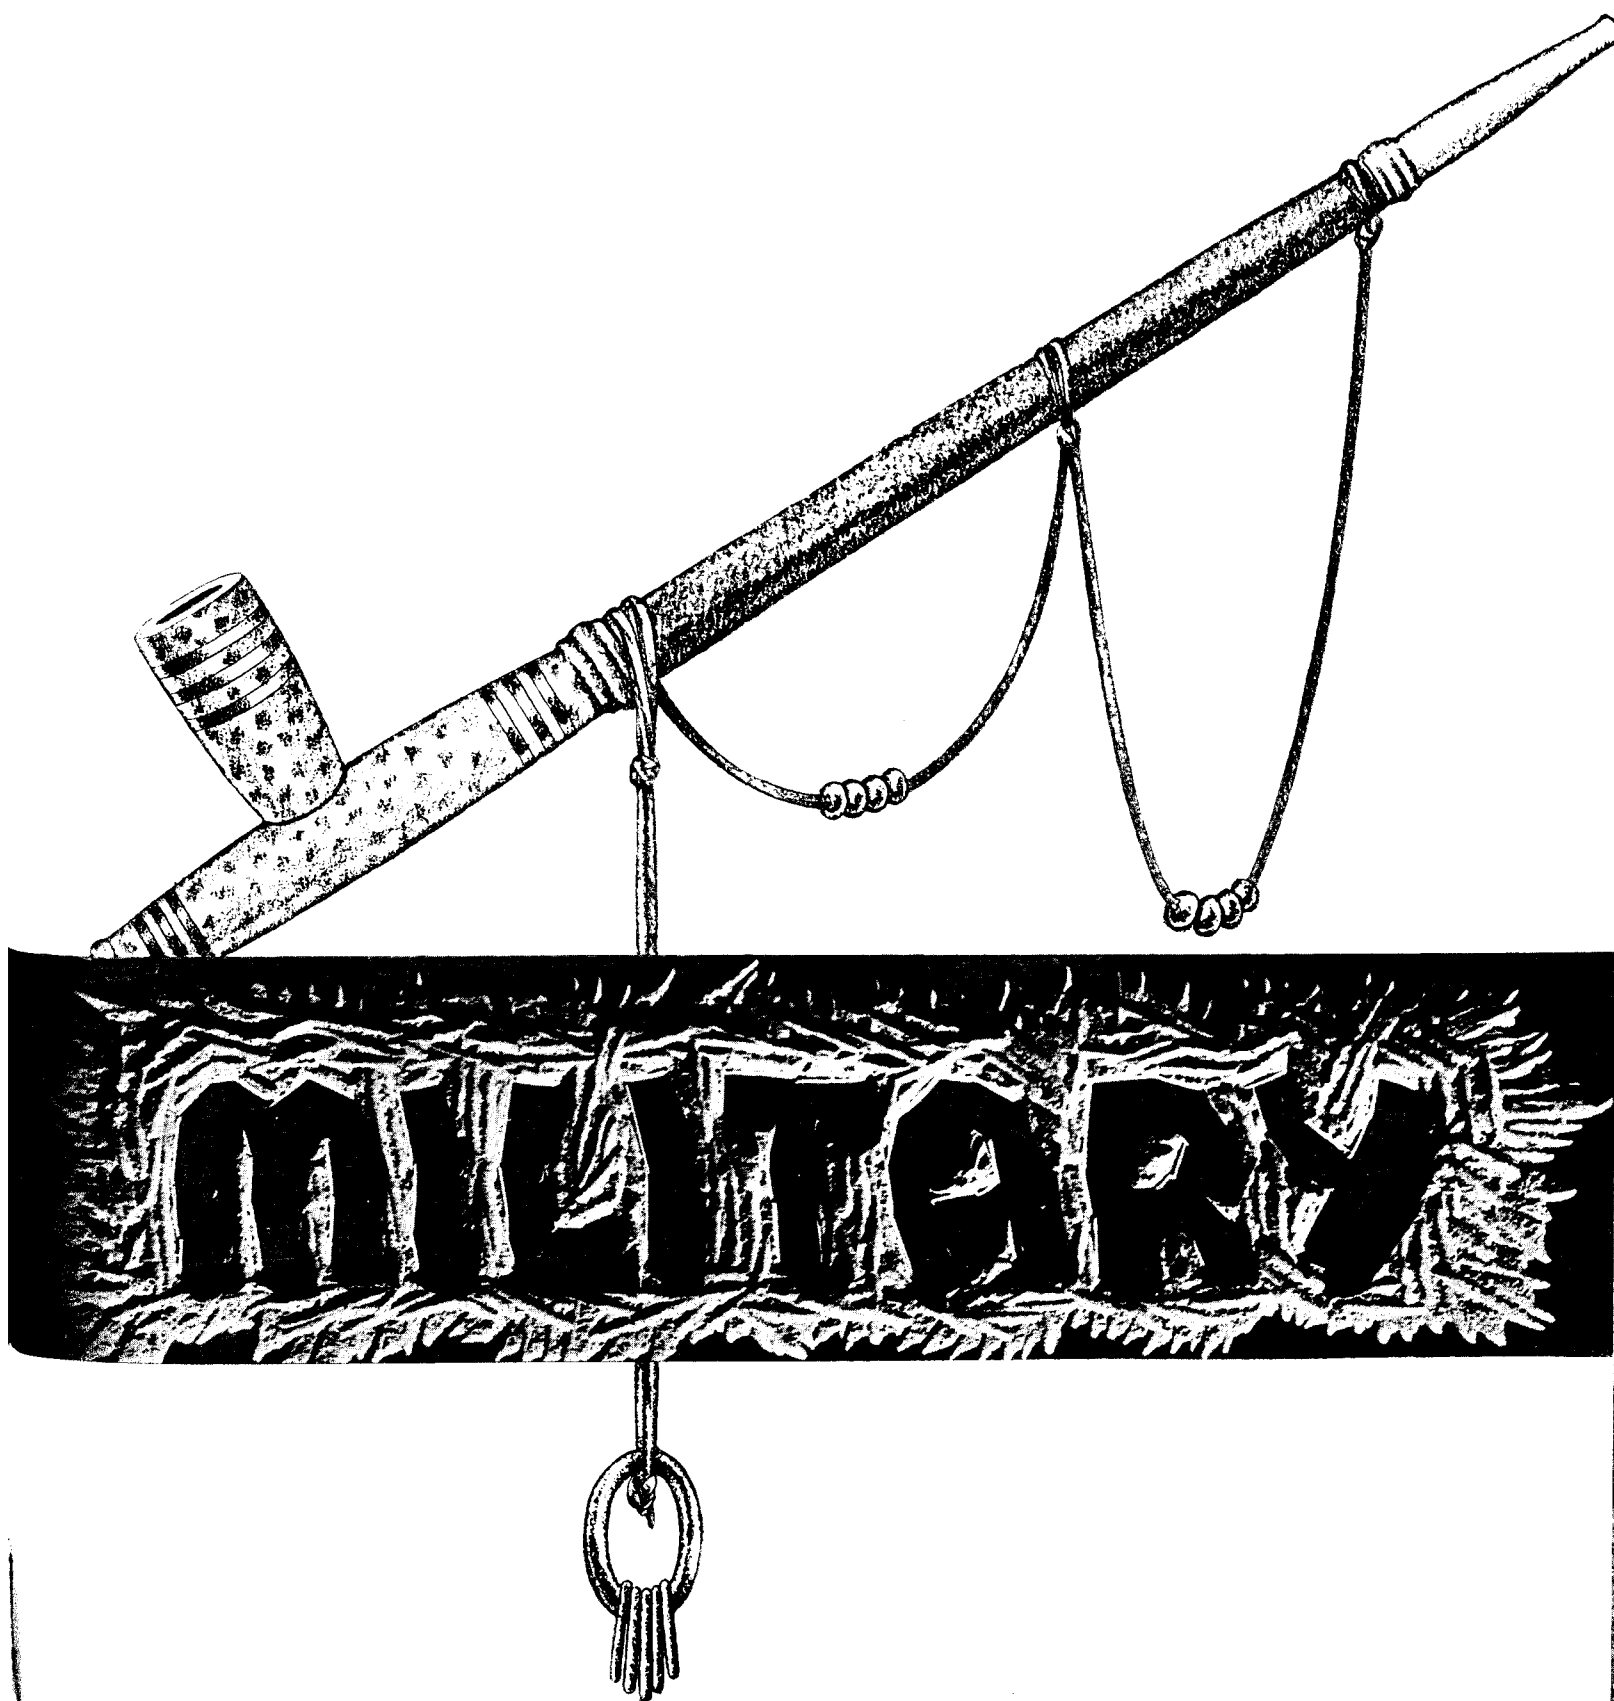

And so we leave hockey for another year and look forward to next winter when we can really "smear them Engineers".

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

LT.-COL. E. H. STRICKLAND, A.D.C.
Officer Commanding

ONE ambition of the U. of A. Contingent, C.O.T.C., has been to obtain one hundred certificates in a single year. This objective was almost reached in 1935-36 with 94 certificates, but it has never been even approached by any other contingent in the Dominion. Great were the rejoicings when the War Office submitted the returns for the 1936-37 training season and credited this Contingent with 105 certificates. Our nearest competitor, Toronto University, had obtained 42.

With an increased enrolment this year it totals 241 in comparison with 204 in 1936-37—the Unit has every reason to hope that it can beat its own record. 162 members were successful in passing the practical portion of the examinations which were held in February. They have, however, still to face the ordeal of the night-long written portion, which is marked at the War Office, in London.

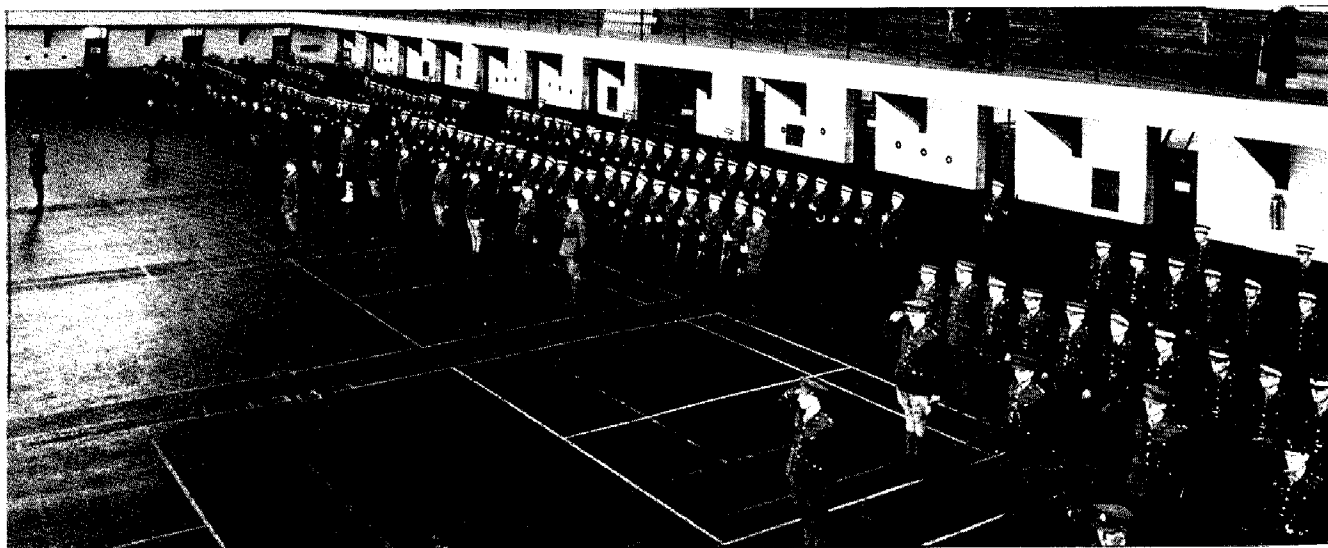

SUMMARY OF TRAINING

A fairly open Fall permitted the completion of a fair amount of out-of-door training before snowfalls drove all activities under cover.

Cavalry, Artillery and Artillery Survey candidates had enough mounted parades to be able to enjoy them without the spectre of prospective saddle soreness discounting the pleasure of a Saturday afternoon ride. Machine Gunners learned how it felt to sit behind a crackling Vickers gun on the ranges at Winterburn and all members of the Unit had an opportunity to obtain some practice at drill in the wide open spaces in front of Pembina.

Training was offered in all Arms of the Service (with the exception of Veterinary which, in these days of mechanization, appears to have lost its charm) in which the War Office grants certificates. In addition, some instruction was given in anti-gas precautions.

The Unit was inspected by Brigadier C. R. Pearkes, V.C., D.S.O., M.C., the District Officer Commanding, on February 19th. It was honoured with the presence of its Honorary Colonel, His Honour Colonel J. C. Bowen, who took the "Royal Salute" of which a photograph appears on page 274. Unfortunately, the camera-man was unable to get the entire parade into the picture.

"ROYAL SALUTE" AT ANNUAL INSPECTION

The training season terminated at 0001 hours on the morning of March 9th, when the last "B" Certificate paper was handed in to a weary Examination Board, who are willing to certify that the last word was written at 1159 hours of March 8th., and did not, therefore, contravene the War Office order that the examination must be held on that day and no other.

OTHER UNIT ACTIVITIES

Early in November, a full-dress parade was called in order that His Honour Colonel Bowen might present their Commissions to newly commissioned officers and, in addition, Coronation Medals to Major P. S. Warren, Major A. West, and Lieut. G. C. Ketchum. Dr. W. A. R. Kerr then presented the Military Institutes Scholarships to Lieut. H. J. Bishop and Sgt. L. J. Brown.

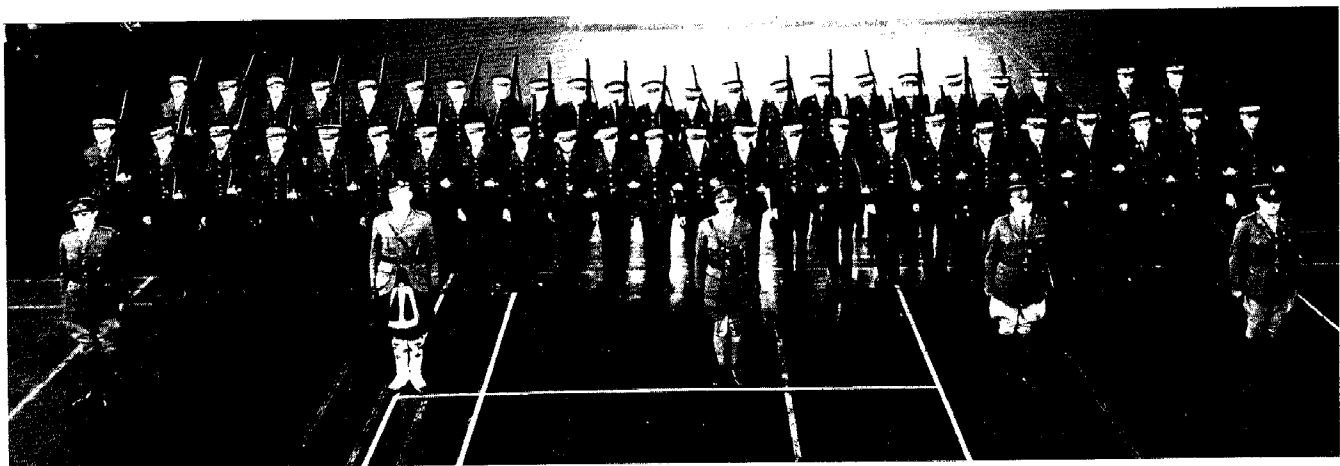

The Officers' Mess Dinner was held in the Connaught Armouries on December 10th, with His Honour and Dr. Kerr as guests of honour.

The second annual Unit Dance, under the distinguished patronage of His Honour Colonel Bowen, was held in Athabasca Hall, on January 7th. As in 1937, it was acclaimed to be the "best dance of the season" by a number of ladies to whose judgment we must bow in the appraisal of such events.

On January 27th, His Honour Colonel Bowen entertained all Unit officers at a dinner at Government House. Needless to say this was a red-letter day for the twenty-one officers who were so graciously entertained by the Honorary Colonel of the Unit.

Following the Inspection, on February 19th, the Annual Unit Dinner was held in Athabasca Hall. Guests of Honour included His Honour, General W. A. Griesbach, the D.O.C., Dr. Kerr and examining officers.

INSTRUCTORS

As in former years much of the instruction was delegated to members of the Unit. This is made possible because they know that they can always rely upon the never-failing assistance of Q.M.S.I. J. O. R. Evans, M.C., P.P.C.L.I., in addition to his having laid a firm foundation for all further instruction by conducting, personally, nearly all of the initial training in "A" Certificate Cavalry and Infantry. PRIZES

The annual prizes awarded by N.D.H.Q. to the best two rifle shots in each company of the contingent were won by the following:

"A" Coy.: Cpl. J. F. Brennaugh, Cadet L. H. Creighton.

"B" Coy.: Cadet S. Goto, Cpl. M. A. Kyle.

"C" Coy.: Cadet O. D. Steed, Cpl. B. J. Berry.

"D" Coy.: Cpl. B. Sangster, Cadet J. C. Treleaven.

In connection with the 1938 examinations the Infantry Association of Canada is offering a number of prizes for open competition among all members of the C.O.T.C. who are writing examinations in Infantry or Machine Guns. It is hoped that, next year, we shall be able to report several of these prizes have been won by members of this Contingent.

COMMISSIONS GRANTED IN N.P.A.M. UNITS

Twenty-two past and present members of the Contingent have informed us that they have been granted Commissions during the past year. There is no official channel through which commissions which are granted to past members of this Unit are reported to us. We would urge all members to remember to do so personally when they receive a commission and would ask them to let us know if they hear that any past member has obtained commissioned rank.

COURSES ATTENDED BY MEMBERS OF THE UNIT IN 1937

Signals (Camp Borden): Lt. C. F. Pattenson, Lt. J. T. Pattenson, R.S.M. J. A. L. Smith.

C.S.A.S. (Calgary): "A" Wing—Lt. J. J. Porter, Lt. P. H. Walker.

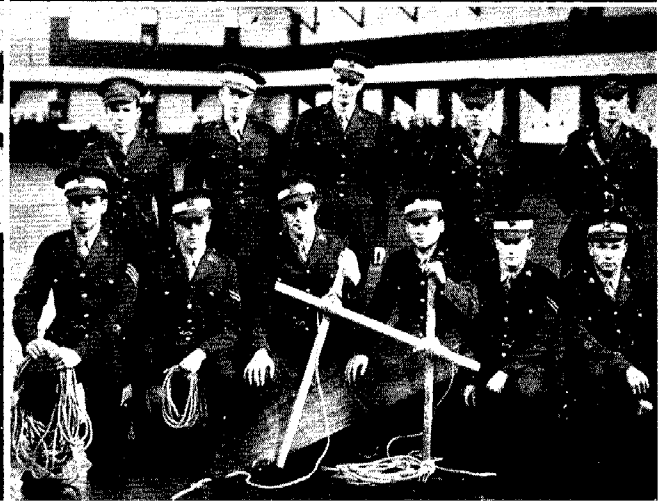

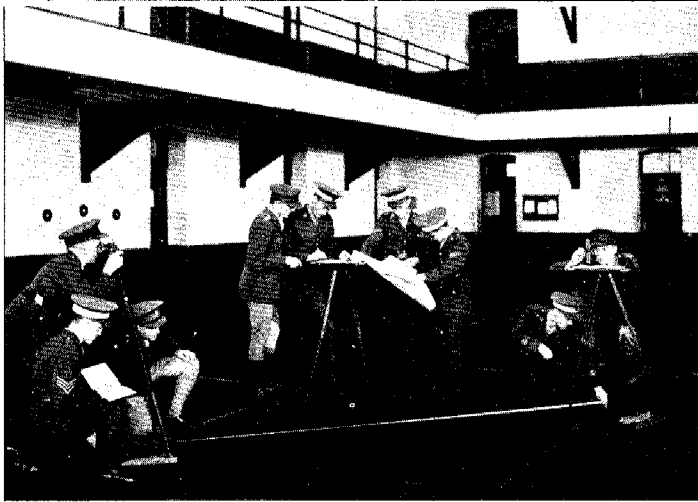

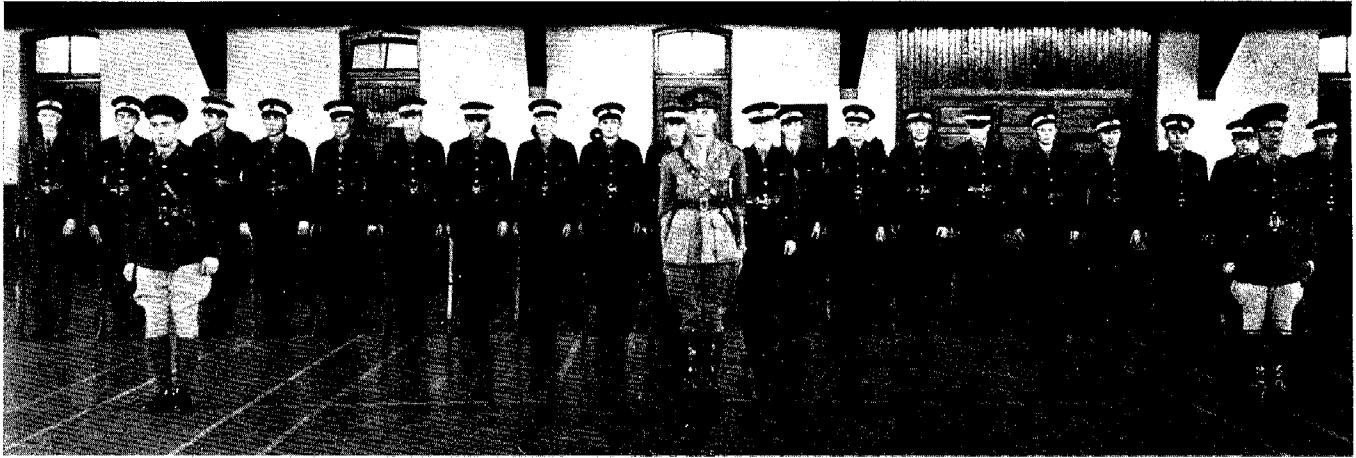

"C" Wing—Lt. H. J. Bishop.

Infantry School (Calgary): Lt. H. J. Bishop.

All ranks are to be congratulated on the results of the Practical portion of the War Office examination which was held in February, 1938.

The number of candidates who were successful was the largest in the history of the Unit, and it is regretted that space does not permit the inclusion of their names. It is, however, hoped that all of these names will appear in Evergreen and Gold, 1939, as holders of either "A" or "B" Certificate in the Arm in which they were being examined.

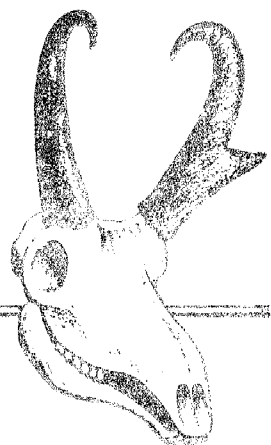

Furthermore, it is sincerely hoped that all present members who return to the University next year will add to their laurels by taking a further year of training in the U. of A. Contingent, C.O.T.C.

In Appreciation

AS the day for the distribution of this the latest volume of Evergreen and Gold approaches, it becomes increasingly timely that I express a little of the sincere and heart-felt gratitude which for a long time has been clamoring for outlet.

For the cooperation of the student body as a whole, without which the production of this annual would be a physical impossibility, I wish to express my thanks.

To the staff itself must go a great deal of appreciation. The untiring efforts and tedious pavement-pounding of the Advertising Department headed by Fred Glover and his worthy assistants, Audrey Michaels and Gordon Sayers, kept Evergreen and Gold free from the shoals of financial bankruptcy.

For the long hours of willing service in the actual production of the 1938 volume I offer my whole-hearted thanks to the Assistant Director, Jim Corbet. My gratitude must also go to Dorothy Pepper and Marie Foley for their work in the collection of Campus Snapshots; to Lorne Burkell in his capacity of Campus Photographer, and to his aids of the Dark Room.

To the Editorial Department, its editor, Carl England, and his staff I offer my appreciation for the excellent quality of the write-ups and for the perseverance they displayed by having them ready promptly. For ever-willing service in his secretarial capacity my gratitude goes to Vince Hyland, and for his proficient supervision of Publicity, to Bud Osborne.

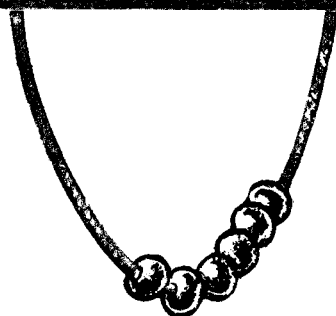

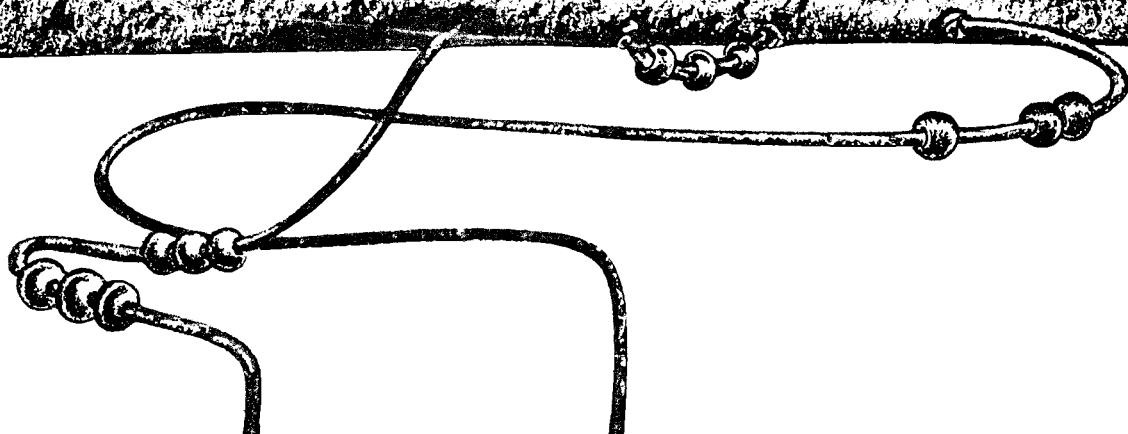

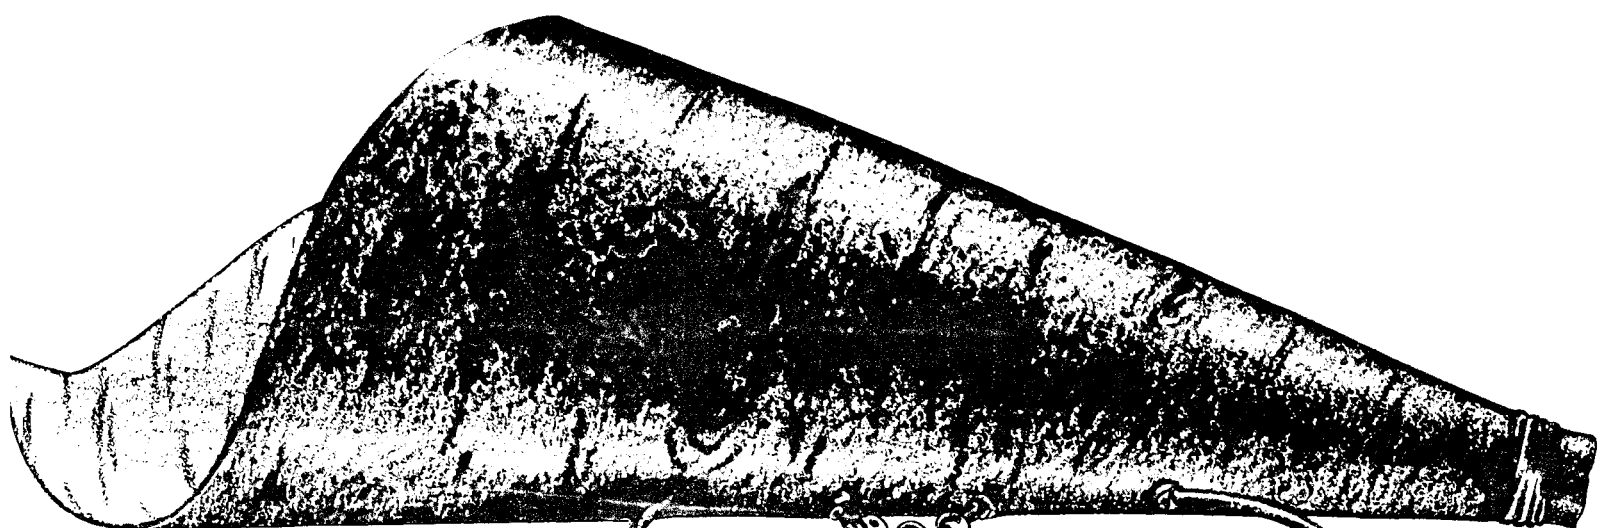

Without the genial cooperation of McDermid Studios, their artists and engravers and particularly the invaluable aid of Jack Housez, this task would have been nigh unto the impossible. Similarly our debt to the Douglas Printing Company cannot be acknowledged adequately in words.

The excellent workmanship so obvious in the make-up of the cover is due to diligent efforts of The Brown Brothers Limited, Toronto.

To the businessmen whose interest in Evergreen and Gold is manifested by their advertising support, we express our true appreciation.

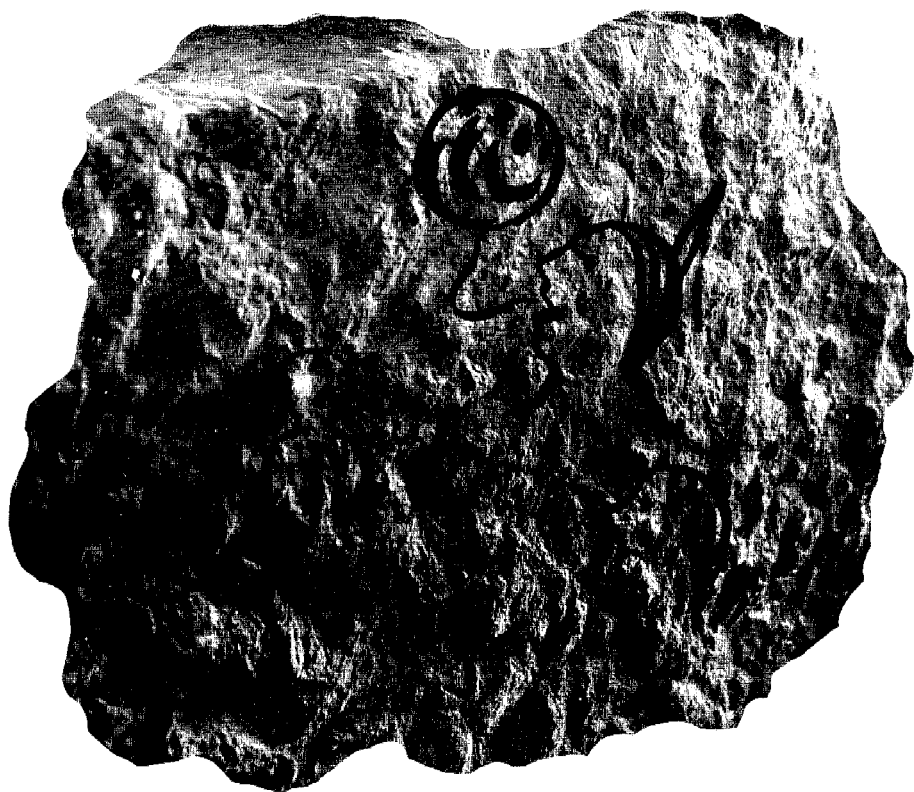

Lastly to everyone whose efforts, directly or indirectly, have contributed to this publication in any manner whatsoever, I wish to express my grateful thanks.

Albert R. Swann,
Director.

you ever Stop to Consider

YOU may have scanned this book quickly, or perhaps scrutinized it page by page, but did you pause to think of the amount of work entailed in its production?

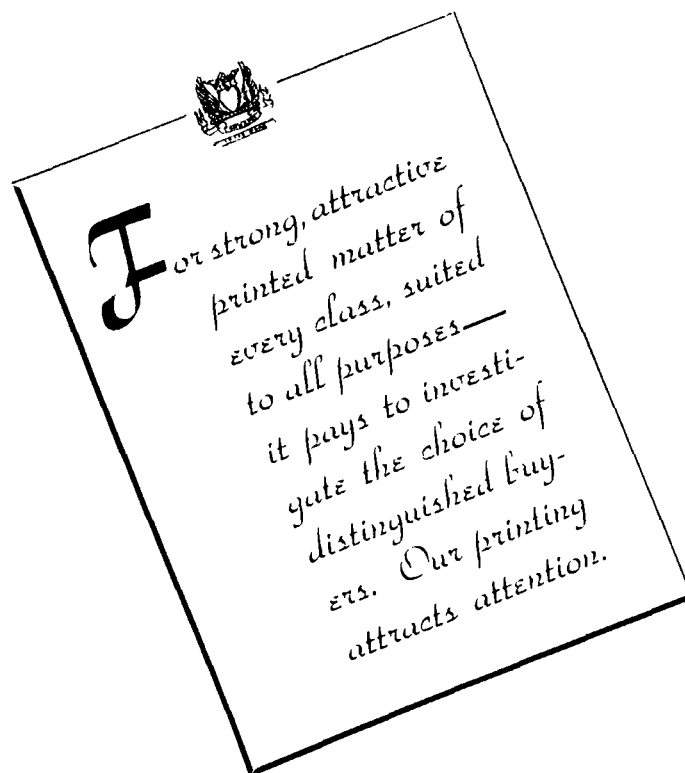

In the first instance the ideas have to be conceived — the plans laid — the motif has to be decided upon. The cover designed — layouts sketched, page by page — then the finished drawings for photographic reproduction carefully executed. The collection of material — the production of countless photographs. Then the huge task of engraving all these designs, drawings and photographs on metal for printing purposes. All this work is carried on, behind the scenes, at McDermid Studios Limited.

We are completely equipped to render faithful service in the production of year books from annuals of the smallest private school to those of our largest institutions.

The 3 Mr. SMITHS

At 18—

Mr. Smith, number one, age eighteen, in college, resolves to open a savings account. Notices that successful men have a lot to do with banks.

At 33—

Mr. Smith, number two, aged thirty-three, has been following the rule adopted fifteen years ago—namely, to take a leaf out of the books of successful men. Because of his character, and good standing, his business ability and his habit of saving, has been able to go to his bank for assistance when he needed to be tided over a difficulty.

At 60—

Mr. Smith, number three, aged sixty, finds his theory has produced a natural result. He finds he, too, is prosperous. At age eighteen he couldn't have told you much about what the bank could do for him. At age thirty-three, he was more hopeful than experienced. At age sixty he is convinced of the fair attitude his bank has held toward him, and its friendly and practical assistance. His early resolve to consult his bank has paid him very big dividends.

The Best Investment of All

TO the graduate and the undergraduate alike the question of guarding against the possible loss to parents or others of a considerable investment represented by a college education, should death or disability step into the picture, is assuming an ever-increasing importance.

In providing for this emergency by means of a life insurance policy the student or graduate is not only starting a savings account but he is laying the foundation for a progressive and extremely useful insurance programme to function for him in later years as a business or professional asset, a guaranteed income for his dependents, or a retirement income for himself.

Built upon a graduated scale, the annual or semi-annual deposits required are so arranged that the plan may be commenced on a modest scale or a more or less specific programme, arranged immediately.

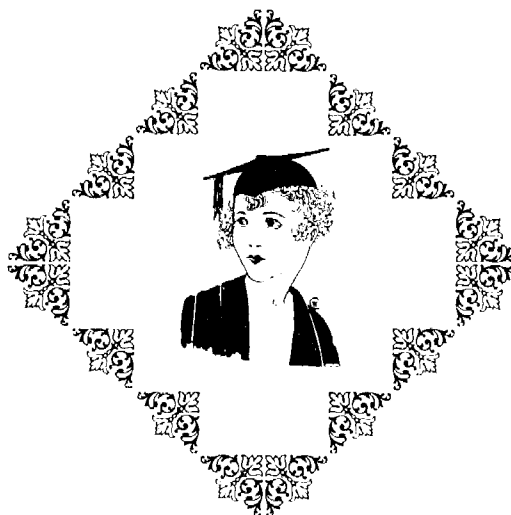

This is worth considering and a message to our Calgary or Edmonton office will receive the Company's immediate attention. Let us tell you about this best investment of all.

In Appreciation

ON this final page may I, on behalf of Evergreen and Gold, thank a body of willing supporters who, to an appreciable extent indeed, make the existence of this volume physically possible.

Without their wholehearted cooperation, so readily given, Evergreen and Gold could not but slip from its enviable position in the vanguard of Canadian College Annuals.

I refer to the business and professional men who are represented in the advertising pages of this book. It is they who lead in Canadian industry and local enterprise and we are indeed fortunate to benefit by their manifestation of interest in the University and its various fields of student activity.

May I, gentlemen, convey to you the grateful appreciation of Evergreen and Gold, 1938, as well as the entire student body for your enthusiastic support and at the same time bespeak our continued and increasing patronage.

Frederic E. Glover,

Advertising Manager.
